Bitter U.S., Soviet Fight Seen In U.N.

Eisenhower Accepts Challenge Of Reds Over Flights Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bitter United Nations battle between the Soviet Union and the United States seemed assured today over the issue of which of the two great powers is responsible for threatening world peace.

The issue was sharply drawn Wednesday night when President Eisenhower accepted a Soviet challenge on U.S. aircraft flights and declared his determination to make a case "on the lawless actions and reckless threats of the Soviet government."

The challenge was hurled by the Soviet government when Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko a few hours earlier demanded an emergency session of the U.N. Security Council. In a cable to U.N. headquarters he charged the U.S. Air Force with aggressive activities against the Soviet Union and said they constitute a threat to the peace of the world.

In a statement from his vacation headquarters at Newport, R.I., Eisenhower declared the United States is "ready and willing" to go to the Security Council for a full discussion of what he called the "wanton shooting down" by the Russians of an RB47 plane July 1.

The United States declared in a note to Moscow Tuesday that the plane was shot down over international waters at least 30 miles from the Soviet coast on the Barents Sea.

The Soviet Union had charged the previous day that the jet reconnaissance bomber had violated Soviet air space. A Soviet note to Washington linked the RB47 flight with the May Day U2 spy flight which went down in the Ural Mountains.

About the time that the President's statement was being released at Newport, the Navy said in Washington that a Soviet trawler which cruised close to the Atlantic coast last April was an electronic spy ship.

The Navy said the trawler Vega was engaged in bold reconnaissance activities. The craft showed up in the midst of tests being conducted by the U.S. nuclear submarine George Washington.

The Vega later cruised down the coast to as close as 12 miles off Cape Henry, Va. The cape is at the approaches to the big U.S. Navy base and fleet anchorage in the Norfolk and Hampton Roads area.

The Navy statement apparently was intended as evidence of how the United States treats reconnaissance in waters off the United States.

Wreck Starts Empire Blaze

Gas Pumps Struck; 2 Buildings Leveled

Two business buildings were destroyed at Empire in a fire that was touched off this morning when an auto went off Route 8 in the village business section and smashed into gasoline pumps at a service station.

The blaze destroyed the service station and an adjoining store, both owned and operated by Mrs. Delma Whitcomb. There was no estimate of the loss.

Roland Smith, 27, of Smithfield in Jefferson County, driver of the wrecked car, was treated at Ohio Valley Hospital in Stenbenville for a laceration of the nose and body bruises. Ronald Lewis, 25, of Michigan, a passenger and owner of the car, escaped unhurt.

The fire alarm was sounded at 6:30 a. m. by Mrs. John Keenan, wife of the village fire marshal, as her husband was at work at the time. Toronto and Stratton firemen rushed to the scene to aid the Empire volunteers, but the two one-story buildings were consumed within 40 minutes.

Spilled gasoline from the pumps caused the fire, authorities said. Marshal Harry Wells of Empire is investigating.

Marks Bastille Day

PARIS (AP)—France celebrated Bastille Day with pomp and pageantry today but a nationalist grenade thrown into a parade-watching crowd in Constantine, Algeria, killed 4 persons and wounded 60 in a grim reminder the nation is not at peace.

Premier Kishi Hospitalized After Stabbing

Jabbed Six Times In Thigh Following Election Of Ikeda

TOKYO (AP) — A rightist fanatic stabbed Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi six times in the left thigh with a hunting knife today.

Doctors said Kishi would be out of the hospital in 10 days, and his ruling Liberal-Democratic party went ahead with plans to accept his resignation and elect Trade Minister Hayato Ikeda Prime minister Friday.

Kishi was attacked at the Prime Minister's official residence as he drank banzai champagne toasts with party leaders in celebration of Ikeda's election earlier today to succeed him as party president. The party election was a preliminary to the government change which Kishi had promised after the controversial U.S.-Japanese security treaty took effect last month.

Bleeding profusely, Kishi was rushed to a nearby hospital. A secretary said he was cracking jokes with visitors within an hour. One of his doctors said neither the artery nor the sciatic nerve had been cut.

Police arrested the assailant, Daisuke Aramaki, 65, a member of the party.

Petitions Seek Poll On Meters For Wellsville

Auditor Plans Check On 290 Signatures Asking Fall Vote

Petitions seeking a referendum on parking meter legislation in Wellsville were filed late Wednesday evening with Auditor Edgar S. Davidson.

Davidson was handed the petitions containing 290 names, according to a "quick count," at 6:45 when he returned from a trip to Youngstown.

They were filed by William Fogo of Clark Ave. Also listed as circulating the petitions were Charles Donaldson, 929 Appian Way, and John Albanese of Main St., proprietor of Johnnie's Lunch.

There were nine petitions, with one containing only three names. Davidson said a check of the names will begin as soon as possible.

A total of 265 names is needed to have the referendum certified to the Columbiana County Election Board. This represents 10 per cent of the vote cast at the last gubernatorial election.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, Election Board clerk, said 2,642 votes were cast in Wellsville in the gubernatorial election of Nov. 4, 1958. This figures out to 264.2, but O'Hanlon said an extra vote will have to be added because of the "two-tenths."

Mrs. May Morley Bryan Taken After Long Illness

Mrs. May Morley Bryan, 507 Sugar St., a leader in Girl Scout work in East Liverpool for many years, died this morning at 3:40 at City Hospital after a long illness. She was 81.

Mrs. Bryan served as both commissioner and treasurer of the Girl Scout Council and it was through her efforts that the recreation center at Morningside came into being. In gratitude, the council named it the Bryan Recreation Center and appointed Mrs. Bryan chairman for life.

Mrs. Bryan served in Community Fund drives for years and was an active Red Cross worker.

She also was quite active in the First Presbyterian Church, now the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, and she and her husband, the late Bert Bryan, worked together about 11 years ago to modernize the church kitchen. She was

Dag's Plan Accepted On U.N. Troops

Will Speed Stopgap Force In Effort To Quell Congo Unrest

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The U.N. Security Council early today approved Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld's plan to speed a stopgap U.N. military force drawn mostly from African nations to the new republic of The Congo in an effort to keep it from collapsing into anarchy.

Immediately after the council acted, the secretary general assured that first steps to put the force together would be taken "in a couple of hours." Initial elements of the force were expected to be in the central African country before the end of the week.

Approval of U.N. intervention came at an emergency 6½-hour session of the council that did not adjourn until 3:24 a.m.

Hammarskjöld called the meeting after receiving urgent requests from The Congo government for U.N. aid.

For a time it appeared that his plea for quick action would be stymied by a dispute over the future of Belgian troops that intervened in The Congo after the native army had mutinized against its Belgian officers and gone on a rampage of violence and pillage.

But the council rejected Soviet demands that it condemn Belgium as an armed aggressor in The Congo, seek immediate withdrawal of the troops, and stipulate that the U.N. military force be restricted to troops from African countries.

Then, by a vote of 8-0 with 3 abstentions, the council approved a Tunisian resolution calling for withdrawal of the Belgian troops without setting any definite date and authorizing Hammarskjöld to take the necessary steps for dispatch of the U.N. force.

Britain, France and Nationalist China abstained, opposing the direct call for withdrawal of the Belgian troops as an implied censure they said was not warranted.

Voting for the resolution were the United States, Soviet Union, Ceylon, Ecuador, Italy, Poland, and Argentina.

Before the vote Belgian Delegate Walter Lorrain declared his country would withdraw its troops when the U.N. force is on the spot and able to restore security to The Congo.

Congo Breaks Off Relations With Belgium

BRUSSELS (AP) — The Congolese government has broken off diplomatic relations with Belgium, Baron Paul Kronacker, president of the House of Representatives, announced today.

Premier Gaston Eyskens had been scheduled to make a statement on the most recent developments in the Congo situation, but Kronacker said Eyskens was prevented from coming to the House because news of the diplomatic break-off had just reached Brussels.

Foreign Minister Pierre Wigny then declared that Belgium will ask the United Nations for an international investigation of the crimes committed in the Congo.

"Our first duty is to protect human lives," he said.

"Furthermore, Congolese authorities themselves asked for our troops' intervention. In spite of that, we got July 12 an ultimatum from President (Joseph) Kasavubu ordering the withdrawal of our forces within two hours. We rejected it."

There seemed to be differences of opinion over the military role Belgians are to play in their old colony, freed only two weeks ago, when peace finally returns.

Two government members said Belgian troops will retire to their bases in The Congo after U.N. military forces restore order, but will not leave the new central African nation.

The ministers' statements to newsmen after a Cabinet meeting appeared at variance with Belgian U.N. Delegate Walter Lorrain's declaration to the U.N. Security Council early today that Belgium would withdraw its troops when the U.N. force is on the scene and able to provide security.

Democratic Nominee Hints Symington As Mate In Fall

Ohio Plugs Symington For 'Veep'

Delegates Whoop It Up After Their 64 Help Kennedy Win

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Elated Ohioans at the Democratic national convention plugged today for a Kennedy-Symington ticket."

Buckeye delegates whooped it up because their 64 votes, that helped nominate Sen. John H. Kennedy for president, turned out to be the largest undivided bloc cast by any state. Four other states had more votes than Ohio but they split them among other aspirants.

The Ohio delegation appeared about as solidly united in favor of a possible nomination of Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri for vice president.

State Chairman William L. Coleman called a caucus for 3:30 p.m. to poll delegates before nominations are offered for the second spot on the ticket.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, who predicted Kennedy's first ballot nomination by acclamation while some were skeptical, asserted that Symington as a running mate would assure a Democratic victory next November.

The governor reported failure in early efforts to induce Symington to drop out of the presidential race and declare for vice president. But he said after Kennedy's nomination that the second spot would go to the Missouri senator if he was acceptable to Kennedy.

On the way here from Columbus, DiSalle predicted Kennedy would win a first ballot nomination by 845½ votes. The count Wednesday night stood at 806 before Missouri switched its 39 votes from Symington to Kennedy to make the total 845 in advance of acclamation.

"We are happy that Ohio was in the forefront of this sweeping victory," DiSalle said after Kennedy's nomination. "We will now begin our efforts to elect Senator Kennedy in November."

Before the voting at the convention, Ted Kennedy, a brother of the senator, told DiSalle the Ohio delegation was the strongest and most loyal in the senator's camp.

DiSalle's announcement for Kennedy early last January has been credited with providing the push that got the senator's campaign into orbit.

But despite speculation that the federal price controller under former President Truman might be offered a Washington job if Kennedy becomes president, DiSalle has said repeatedly he would not be interested. He has more than two years remaining in his four-year term as governor.

Symington, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and an envoy for Adlai E. Stevenson addressed the Ohio caucus shortly before Rayburn said that some 35 units have entered the firemen's parade July 22 at 7:30 p. m. Entertainment for the final day will be announced Wednesday.

2 Planes Crash; 1 Killed, 87 Safe

MANILA (AP) — Two airliners crashed off the Philippines at opposite ends of the island chain before dawn today, only eight minutes apart. All but one of the 88 persons aboard survived in the inky waters.

One wing was on fire when a Northwest Orient Airlines plane carrying 58 persons ditched off the Polillo Islands about 85 miles northeast of Manila. U.S. military amphibious planes picked up 57 survivors and the body of one woman passenger and brought them to Manila. One survivor was reported seriously injured.

Eight minutes before, a Philippine Airlines DC3 had ditched in shallow water near Dumaguete, off Negros Island in the southern Philippines. The plane was bound from Manila for Zamboanga City, but bad weather prevented a landing. The pilot ran out of gas. The 27 passengers and 3 crewmen all reached shore safely.

The American airliner was approaching Manila on a flight from New York to Hong Kong after stops in Seattle, Anchorage, Tokyo and Okinawa.

About an hour before the Northwest airliner crash, the pilot reported his No. 2 propeller had "run away" and he was unable to feather it. Then the engine caught fire, the flames spread to the wing, and the four-engine DC7C hit the water.

Rescue planes sighted signal flares on the water near the crash scene, put down, and taxied up to the survivors huddled on four rafts.

A rescue pilot said the water was so rough that the rafts had to be towed to a cove so the survivors could be loaded on the five planes.

The Northwest survivors were flown to Manila's International Airport and the U.S. Naval Base

Sidelights On Convention

'Ohio' Badge Of Delegates Draws Former Residents

(Editor's Note: The following is the third in a series of stories furnished the Review by Maurice Rapport of East Liverpool, a district alternate at the Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles.)

By MAURICE RAPPORT
LOS ANGELES — Our Ohio delegate badges, spelling out the state's name in bold letters, have opened the door to many new friendships here—principally with former Ohioans who are anxious to know: "How are things at home?"

When we visited Warner Brothers Studio Tuesday to watch filming of the television series, "77 Sunset Strip," we found the place literally swarming with former Ohioans. And most of them seemed to be from Youngstown, which is understandable, because of the history of the original founders traces back to Youngstown.

We found many former Youngstown residents working at high executive posts in the studio. Spotting our Ohio delegate badges, they were all anxious to talk about things "back home."

There were movie stars literally all over the place. After watching filming of several scenes, we had lunch in the studio cafeteria.

We went to the studio immediately after attending a reception given for delegates at the Coconut Grove in the Ambassador Hotel by

Sen. Jackson Also Enters 'VP' Picture

Some Of Strategists Suggest Johnson Be Given Opportunity

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts held the cherished Democratic presidential nomination today.

But his roughshod ride over all opposition on the first ballot Wednesday night left some gaping holes in the "strong and united party in all parts of the United States" which he told a cheering convention he will lead into the November election.

In an attempt to placate angry Southerners threatening to walk out on the ticket, there were reports Kennedy might turn to Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri as his running mate.

Symington, who mustered 86 votes to Kennedy's winning 806, is regarded as acceptable to the South.

Informed sources said the new nominee's choice had been narrowed to Symington and Sen. Henry M. (Scoop) Jackson of Washington. Jackson was named by brother Robert Kennedy as his own personal favorite.

But there were some among the Kennedy strategists who urged that first refusal of the vice presidential nomination be given to Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

With Kennedy's guidance, the convention is expected to name the vice presidential nominee tonight. In a demonstration of power that surprised even his own leaders, Kennedy swept to a smashing first-tally victory as the first Roman Catholic to be nominated for the presidency since Al Smith.

He rolled over Johnson, the South's choice, who collected only 409 votes. He left Adlai E. Stevenson, the darling of the sentimental

Here's Text Of Remarks By Kennedy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Following is the text of Sen. John F. Kennedy's remarks to delegates after being voted the Democratic presidential nomination:

Gov. Collins, Chairman Butler, Gov. Brown and my mother and my sister:

Under the official procedures of this convention, it is not possible for me to give you an answer to your nomination until Friday night, but I think you can guess what the answer will be.

Four years ago, in another great city, on the occasion of our 1956 Democratic convention, I came to the platform and moved that the name of our vice presidential nominee, Sen. Kefauver, be made unanimous. Therefore, I have some recognition of the feeling of my friend and colleague Sen. Johnson, and my friend and colleague, Sen. Symington.

Their generosity and the generosity of the other favorite sons in moving that this nomination be made by acclamation, I think, gives us promise of going to the people of the United States in this election as a strong and united party in all parts of the United States.

I hope that those who have so loyally supported them will join with me. This is an important election, in many ways the most important election in the history of this country. All of us in this room and across the country are united together in our devotion to this country.

We wish to keep it strong, and we wish to keep it free. It requires at this critical time the best of all of us, and I can assure all of you here who have reposed this confidence in me that I will be worthy of your trust. We will carry the fight to the people in the fall, and we shall win.

All those who signed must be qualified voters or their names will be crossed off. Past performance as voters has nothing to do with the validity, as there is no voter registration in Wellsville.

Council adopted legislation at a special meeting June 13 to install parking meters on a one-year trial basis.

Parking meters have been defeated in Wellsville twice in the past by referendum.

The petitions will be held for 10 days for public inspection. The auditor has until 90 days prior to the Nov. 8 general election to certify them to the Election Board.

Council Waits Land Sale Bill

Legislation authorizing the Board of Control to advertise for bids on the sale of a small section of city-owned land will be considered by Wellsville City Council Tuesday night at 7:30.

The action is being taken to clear the way for the location of a liquid sulphur terminal of the Freeport Sulphur Co. of New Orleans.

The firm has requested the city sell 2.5 acres of land near the flood-wall below 25th St. along the Ohio River so it can construct docking facilities needed for the location of the $14 million industry.

Freeport is purchasing land from the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. for erection of storage tanks. G. Edward Cotter of New Orleans, assistant vice president of the firm, spoke to Council at its last session and explained the proposed installation.

He said at that time construction will begin as soon as title is obtained to the land.

Council also will act on the city's 1961 budget. A public hearing on the estimated expenditures for next year will be held Monday at the auditor's office. Anyone who wishes may inspect the budget at that time.

The budget must be in the hands of the County Budget Commission by Wednesday, the deadline.

Belgians Press Uneasy Peace

Congolese Civilians Burn Europeans' Automobiles

By LYNN HEINZERLING

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—Congolese civilians began burning automobiles of Europeans today as Belgian soldiers tried to enforce an extremely unpopular curfew in the capital city of the new Congo Republic.

Belgians of three Belgians were stopped within an hour in the downtown area and set on fire.

The small force of Belgian soldiers patrolling the sprawling city was helpless to prevent the burnings and a series of assaults and robberies.

At least three members of the native army were killed by Belgians Wednesday night.

One was shot when a band of mutinous Congolese troops tried to ambush a Belgian army column taking 1,000 refugees to the airport.

Two others were killed during the night, and the death brought on an almost general strike in the city. Many hotels were without staffs. Most stores were closed, and the few groceries still open in the white sector were besieged by Europeans stocking up.

Refugees continued to stream across the Congo River to Brazzaville, capital of the former French Congo and a chief embarkation point for the refugees.

Arthur Djinn, representative of Ghana's Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah, went into an emergency session of The Congo's Cabinet today. He said Ghana was prepared to send troops in answer to an appeal from Prime Minister Patrice Lumumba but wanted the Belgian soldiers out of the country first.

Gun fire was heard during the night but it was impossible to trace it.

Reports from outside Leopoldville were scanty, but airline pilots said they heard of many requests for help by whites.

Walks And Horse Rides

OMAHA (AP)—Paul Revere had to walk but his horse hitched a ride.

It happened after Gary Young, 16, had donned a cocked hat and frock coat and prepared to ride several miles through the city to publicize a charity horse show.

What spoiled the plan was a city ordinance prohibiting horses on Omaha thoroughfares without a parade permit.

Despite 89-degree heat, Gary covered the planned route — on foot. The horse rode along beside him in a trailer.

at Sangley Point, on Manila Bay. They arrived eight hours after the crash. Most were able to walk to ambulances. They were driven to hospitals.

The dead woman was identified by an airline spokesman as Mrs. Glyde Kelley, 52, of Springfield, Ohio. He said she was born in Winfield, Kan., Oct. 12, 1907. Her body was found floating in the water.

Airline officials withheld the name of the seriously injured survivor.

The passengers were shoeless, in wet clothes, and some were still clinging to lifebelts. But most were in good spirits and full of praise for pilot David Rall of Seattle, Wash., and six members of his crew.

Plane Crash Victim Shawnee High Teacher

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Glyde Kelley, 52, of Springfield, victim of the crash of the Northwest Airlines plane in the sea off the Philippine Islands Wednesday night, was a teacher at Shawnee High School near Springfield.

The wife of Prof. G. Vernon Kelley, 60, head of the Speech Department of Wittenberg University, she and her husband were on a pleasure trip around the world. They left Springfield July 1.

Airline spokesmen said Mrs. Kelley's body was found floating in the water. She was the only fatality reported among the 58 passenger and crew members.

Prof. Kelley had been associated with Wittenberg University since 1926. He is a graduate of Wichita, Kan., University; Oberlin College and the University of Michigan where he earned his doctorate in jurisprudence.

The Kremlin's Verbal Strategy

What is it that makes people fall for successive cycles of Kremlin good will despite successive cycles of disillusionment after each of them?

If it can be simplified to a single factor, it is the Communist talent for using words, the Red system of dialectics. It is really a simple system: You make the enemy think you are talking his language by using the same words he uses, when actually you are not talking his language at all because your words do not mean the same thing to you that they mean to him.

A case in point is Nikita Khrushchev's effort to undermine traditional United States interest in what happens anywhere in the Western Hemisphere.

"Who gave the United States the right to allow or disallow?" he asked. "What right has the United States to dispose of the destinies of any other nation?"

Only a Communist would be able to talk this way with a straight face against a historical background of having disposed of the destinies of more nations than any other system of modern times, climaxed by the Russian slaughter of Hungarian freedom fighters and Red China's brutal conquest of Tibet.

WHAT KHRUSHCHEV'S words imply is a stand against intervention in the internal affairs of a foreign state, and they are words capable of drawing sympathy from a lot of people around the world. But the deeds of international communism supply the real

Red definition of those words. They do not mean the same thing to Khrushchev that they mean to the sympathetic listeners.

Simple as this verbal strategy is, it works. It worked on the people who created the pressure that forced President Eisenhower to agree to another summit conference. The President knew Khrushchev's nice words about peaceful coexistence could not be taken at face value, but a lot of other people did not know.

And now that Khrushchev has poisoned the atmosphere of peaceful coexistence that he himself created with his sweet words, he is using the same technique to put the blame on Mr. Eisenhower. The President's political opponents—and even some of the doubters in his own party—are following right along.

RECOGNITION of the difference in definitions led the President many times to declare that his policy in foreign affairs was to demand that the Communists back up their words with deeds. Only by a change in action could they prove to him that they had changed the meaning of their words.

Although he has had to endure considerable personal abuse, the President has been vindicated. His policy of demanding deeds consistent with words was sound all the time.

It is a good lesson for his successor: Beware of Communist proposals to negotiate for agreements. The effectiveness of both negotiations and agreements depends upon words, and both sides have to be talking the same language.

Politics And The Conventions

This is not going to be the end of national party conventions—not this year. But party conventions as they were are no more.

They never can be that way again. Modern communication has done to them what it did to the horse and buggy. There are still horses and buggies, but they are no longer the main means of transportation.

Nor is the national convention the main means of party politics any more.

Both conventions in 1960 are anticlimaxes. Barring last-minute events that could not have been foreseen, Democratic and Republican delegates were elected to perform a function that in actuality already had been performed.

In this era, men are in continuous contact with like-minded men in politics, business, the arts, literature and science. They do not wait for a convention to exchange views and propose plans. Even California is only a few hours away from the Atlantic Coast by air. By telephone, contact is instantaneous.

PRESIDENTIAL politics no longer is a preoccupation pursued a few months every four years. It now is a year-round activity.

The success of Sen. John Kennedy is a tribute to unrelenting attention to his long-term campaign to win the Democratic nomination. Vice President Nixon is all but upstaged for the Republican nomination because his nomination was made automatic by his acts for the last several years.

Party conventions in all recent years have been confronted with the formality of confirming decisions already made. Challengers of the predetermined have had no success.

The late Robert A. Taft of Ohio could not break up the solid phalanx of Republicans who had made up their minds to nominate Wendell Wilkie, Thomas Dewey and Dwight Eisenhower.

The Once Over

This column sent Oswald Oddball to the Los Angeles convention and got the following report:

Dear Boss: Well, I am at the rodeo, P. T. Barnum testimonial, union derby, pier riot, TV spectacular, Mardi Gras and National Rally of American Indians out here and am pretty perplexed.

I asked directions to the sideshow, bullfight, pro wrestling bouts and clambake disturbances and was asked, "What do you think this is?" I replied I wouldn't know until I consulted my psychiatrist. The fellow told me it was a national convention to nominate candidates for the presidency and vice presidency of the United States, but he couldn't fool me.

I know no country picks men for such big jobs in so much of a circus, musical comedy and Mummies Parade atmosphere.

They tell me the disturbing noises I hear come from speechmaking. I am fortunate that I am deaf and that my hearing aid blew a gasket early. A friend offered to lend me his but I know when I am well off.

I am mixed up by the whole show and can't figure why Joseph Welch, the Boston lawyer, movie and TV star isn't master of ceremonies or why Rodgers & Hammerstein aren't candidates.

From what I gather in my state of bewilderment this is really some sort of convention and Billy Rose was ahead the first two days, with the Tilyou Brothers of Coney Island close up.

I saw one big delegation wearing "We Like Victor Moore" buttons, and some others carrying banners that read: "Put Walt Disney in the White House" "Forward with Adam Forepaugh" and "Russell Crouse for President."

A FELLOW told me Jack Kennedy, Lyndon Johnson, Stu Symington and Adlai Stevenson were the real candidates but I think this is false, as they are serious men who were never in an Olsen & Johnson "Hell-zapoppin'" road company and have had no experience at country fairs, movie riots or as bit players in "The Untouchables."

There are so many pretty dames around that if Earl Carroll was alive I would think he was running things.

On the Democratic side, party followers who dreamed of having something to say about even so minor a matter as vice presidential nominations were put into their places by the insiders who already had made their choice—and had "cleared it with Sidney."

THERE IS TOO much involved in presidential politics to wait for the kind of hurly-burly decision-making that would come out of a meeting of a few days every four years. The business of the party conventions, being of a continuing nature, is carried on continuously.

There will continue to be conventions, as a means of translating proposals into official action and as the best means so far discovered of getting public attention. But the party conventions as they were originally and up to a few years ago are obsolete.

They have been made so by modern communications, which keep men in touch day by day and hour by hour. Politicians no longer need to postpone great decisions until they finally meet face to face in convention headquarters.

Official Warning

Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate's warning of the city's financial needs Wednesday served to put an official stamp on what already has been realized fully by those with a sincere concern over the municipal future.

In brief, Mr. Applegate emphasized that curtailed services are in order unless more money is forthcoming by next year.

His statement ties in with the need for presentation of a new, sound program for raising revenue as quickly as one can be worked out. The cupboard threatens to become too bare for comfort if too much time is wasted.

By H. I. Phillips

Before I go further I wish to say I have released my delegates, all of whom got lost in traffic the first day and were for Calvin Coolidge anyhow. (I just met John Ringling North and he says regardless of conventions nobody can win the election who is not a steam caliope player.)

Jim Reinsch, convention director, says it is like producing "Ben Hur." The difference is that every candidate wants chariots and right to run in all directions.

There have been few times in history when there was so much talk of war in promoting peace.

Drinks in Los Angeles convention arena are illegal. If delegates wish to get woozy they will have to depend on the speeches.

Office of U.S. Health, Education and Welfare was robbed of $50,000 by safe openers. Robbers will probably get a lawyer to contend they were merely looking for pills, a good book and money for a cup of coffee.

H. Allen Smith offers to run for President on a platform pledge to see that good strawberries are put on the bottom as well as on top of the basket. If election came in strawberry season he would be a cinch.

Meter maids first month on duty checking parkers in New York got $210,000 extra for the city. Auto parkers follow the slogan "Never underestimate the power of a woman." Meter maids are trained in judo and this may have helped. A man may be willing to cheat city and brush off parking meters but he will rarely want to wrestle during business hours.

Memorable paragraph by President Eisenhower: "I have not, in spite of three physical illnesses, felt physical defects. At times I doubt a little my intellectual capacity and my judgment but I'll tell you this: I never DOUBT MY HEART AND WHERE IT STANDS, WITH AMERICA."

The United States has only 6 per cent of the world population, but owns 68 per cent of the world's automobiles — one for every 2.6 American adults, as compared with one car for every 61 Russians and one for every 6,461 Chinese.

Which Hand Do You Take?

Unions Seek White House Backing

By Victor Riesel

Bluntly, what the nation's hardest hitting labor leaders sought in return for their support in Los Angeles was a U.S. president who would side with them in the coming showdown with American industry.

Few among the public have noticed it, but the showdown fight is on. While everybody was counting delegate strength, a few observers were counting strike crises. The number of conflicts was a grim one on the morning the Democratic convention opened.

There were strikes or strike crises in the auto industry, in steel, on the rails, on the commercial airlines, in missile plants, in shipyards where the newest submarines are being built, on the docks, in electrical equipment and household appliance firms, as well as at experimental "Thinking" labs, at airports and on outer space installations.

When the headlines on this little noticed industrial war break through the front pages, the public will discover how serious the issues are.

For the first time many managements are determined to keep their plants open in the face of picket lines. And virtually all companies are doggedly set to fight it out for months on their right to set work rules—the very issue which shut down the steel industry for 116 days.

MANY OF THESE companies have the same customer—the nation's biggest buyer—the U.S. government.

The unions, faced with industrial challenge to their basic strength, want the head of that buying company—the President of the U.S.—on their side.

Without him, they might win a very long strike. But it would take millions of dollars and keep hundreds of thousands on the bricks.

There are, in fact, scores of thousands on strike at this minute. Some of them, for example, have been out at the American Manganese Steel Division of the American Brake Shoe and Foundry Co., Chicago Heights, Ill.

These steel unionists struck Jan. 6. There the battle is over whether the company shall have the right to change the work rules from past practices.

Or there was the Ford strike in Cleveland at a stamping plant which, in turn, shut down plants employing at least 10,000 workers. The issue: Production standards—which means the amount of work and efficiency required of a man by the company.

A quarrel over production standards goes right up the grievance committee ladder. But the contract says specifically that the union has the right to strike over this issue since it isn't taken to arbitration.

In this case the Ford Co. insisted on its right to set standards at its plant. The Auto Union objected—and walked out.

Engineers and scientists struck five RCA plants in the Camden, N. J., area in a challenge of the company's right to give merit increases in its own fashion.

The "thinkers" wanted automatic across-the-board merit raises and "retention of employees." The company said you're moving in on management rights. So they struck.

On the Long Island Railroad, the striking trainmen began picketing to keep their right to veto management's manning charts and other executive office planning.

IN A FEW WEEKS the air really will burn with charges and counter charges when the on-train employees of the nation's rail lines fight the industry's demand for a six-point revision of work rules.

This, like the other showdowns, is a simple battle over who will make the decisions—labor and tradition or the management executive suites.

Typical of the rail lines demands is the absolute insistence on the elimination of union rules which fix the number of crew members the roads must hire and the type of work some employees are permitted to perform in the yards.

Work rules differ as industries differ. The principle is the same, for example, on the Southern Airways or in the plants of the United Aircraft Corp. and some missile producers which have been struck over the issue.

In this group there is one big difference. These companies have been operating despite picket lines around their installations.

General Electric also will attempt to operate its 167 plants if Jim Carey's Electrical Workers strike any time after Aug. 2.

Obviously the showdown is here. Whichever side loses, loses for a long time.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

No one but a politician-orator ever pronounces the name of our country the YEW-nited States. The rest of us, if my hearing can be trusted, all say the U-NIGHT-ed States.

If former employees who drop in for office visits on their vacations wanted to do the handsome thing, they would stop at the PBX, give their name to the operator and wait five minutes while it was circulated among the old-timers who otherwise will be unable to remember it.

You wonder when you see the miles of plastic hose now in use how civilization was able to make do so long with the old-fashioned rubber hose that used to deteriorate in sunlight and become stiff as a board when the temperature dropped.

One taste I never acquired was for coffee drunk out of a cardboard container, which reminds me of the professional tea-taster who complained that tea made in tea bags might be all right, except all he ever tasted was the bag.

For a long time, I have nurtured a conviction that comparative statistics are meaningless unless they reflect identical facts. Thus, dollar comparisons are absurd unless the value of dollars is the same. Currently, my pet peeve is auto production statistics that do not take into account the difference between yesterday's ponderous cars costing upward of $5,000 and today's economy cars weighing a fraction as much and costing about $2,000. Auto production comparisons are meaningless.

Whether Democrats or Republicans do it, it is bad taste to use well-known people from the entertainment world to shill for candidates.

men who hire workers are over 40. What would be their feelings if they were informed, "You're too old. You must step aside for a younger man?"

Of course, these men wouldn't have to rely on unemployment compensation to maintain their homes as do the working men and women. This is sometimes an adequate solution to the older worker. It is not for some, especially those pottery workers who get their unemployment compensation from West Virginia where the rate is based on earnings.

How can anyone maintain a decent living standard on a meager $15, $20 or even $25 a week? And what of the time these checks are terminated?

Our country was built on the idea of democracy, of equality, of the right of every citizen to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. That means men and women of all ages.

I sincerely hope some local employers read this and reconsider before disqualifying a person for a position because of his or her age.

Dictatorial Power

By David Lawrence

Democrat Platform Eyes Sweeping Changes

LOS ANGELES
It would require a dictator in the White House to fulfill some of the provisions of the platform recommended to the Democratic National Convention by a majority of its platform committee.

Not only does the platform impose on the President—to be the task of reversing the national "mood," whatever that is, but it proposes, in effect, that employment practices and social customs be changed irrespective of the legal rights of private citizens.

"We have drifted," says the platform, "into a national mood that accepts payola and quiz scandals, tax evasion and false expense accounts, soaring crime rates, influence peddling in high government circles and the exploitation of sadistic violence as popular entertainment."

"For eight long critical years our present national leadership has made no effective effort to reverse this mood."

Just how any administration can set about to change the national mood in every field, from entertainment to crime rates, is a little hard to understand but platforms are noted for their promises of Utopia.

The most alarming section, however, of the platform—and one which could cost the Democrats plenty of electoral votes in the South and perhaps in the North—is a provision which practically tells employers they must adopt some system of equality of race, religion and color in choosing their employees.

IT ALSO TELLS the private schools they, too, must not discriminate in matters of race or religion or color. Maybe there will be no more exclusively white social clubs in the North if the Democratic platform means what it says and if laws are to be passed to remove all forms of discrimination.

The platform plank on this reads in part as follows:

"The time has come to assure equal access for all Americans to all areas of community life, including voting booths, schoolrooms, jobs, housing and public facilities."

The clause "equal access to all areas of community life" is the most sweeping ever proposed in a political platform. There are no exceptions, nor is the word "schoolrooms" qualified by the word "public."

It is not clear yet how the platform writers came to the conclusion that the Constitution gives Congress the right to pass a law telling a private employer whom he may employ, especially when he isn't engaged in any government contract work.

Yet the platform plank says: "The new Democratic administration will support federal legislation establishing a fair employment practices commission effectively to secure for everyone the right to equal opportunity for employment."

Does this mean that, unless an equal number of Negroes and whites are employed or if someone thinks he should have a job for which he isn't really qualified, the employer can be hauled before a commission and made to prove that no discriminatory motive is behind his hiring practices?

Does it mean that there must be a proportionately equal number of Protestants, Catholics and Jews in every plant or business establishment in order to fulfill the requirements of "equal access"?

IT IS CLEAR from the way the platform is written that the authors are not talking only of federal services or work on government contracts. This latter field is separately provided for, and there is, in addition, a broadly phrased paragraph which says:

"A new Democratic administration will broaden the scope and strengthen the powers of the present (civil rights) commission and make it permanent. Its functions will be to provide assistance to communities, industries, or individuals in the implementation of constitutional rights in education, housing, employment, transportation, and the administration of justice."

There are neighborhoods in many American cities where racial discrimination prevails.

The United States Supreme Court has said the federal and state authorities have no power to enforce "integration" against the wishes of private-property owners. This could become a big issue in the coming campaign.

Already the Southern leaders have announced openly that they repudiate the platform.

They say in a public statement: "We emphatically repudiate those provisions, do not propose to be bound by them, and respectfully request that the statement of repudiation be entered upon the minutes of the convention and read to the convention upon the presentation of the platform."

The desire of the platform makers to win the votes of Negro and other minority groups will create new conflicts with other groups which have hitherto supported the Democratic ticket.

Sen. Kennedy, as the party nominee, would be on the spot if asked whether he supports wholeheartedly the provisions of the platform quoted above. If he does, it could cost him the South and some Northern states as well. It may be doubted whether the Republican platform will invade the field of private rights as the Democratic platform has done.

'Modern' Candidates

By James Marlow

LOS ANGELES
The 1960 political conventions are not only old-fashioned. They're contradictions.

Here in the sixth decade of the 20th Century they retain all the corny, long-winded, disorderly claptrap of the 19th Century.

But they are nominating presidential candidates who are thoroughly modern.

Neither Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, who got the Democratic nomination Wednesday night, nor Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who seems assured of the Republican nod, exudes much personal warmth. Neither is a moving speaker.

And just because both lack the power to excite they may put on a dull campaign.

Neither has the personal charm of Franklin D. Roosevelt, the fire of Harry S. Truman, or the easy geniality of Dwight D. Eisenhower.

But both are superb technicians in politics.

Getting the nomination is for them no accident. They have worked for it for years, not only in person but by surrounding themselves with excellent young staffs, taking care of minute details, and planning ahead.

They are so expert in modern political techniques—from how to handle themselves on TV to lining up support far ahead of time—they have to be careful not to look too slick.

The one thing Kennedy and Nixon have in common is a thorough knowledge of national issues and the problems facing the country, although their stand on issues and solutions for the problems are not the same.

Either man as president would do far more homework, firsthand, than Eisenhower ever did. They've been doing it for years.

Eisenhower depended so much on staff work—on his advisers for information about issues and events—that he cheerfully admitted he does most of his newspaper reading on Sunday.

To this writer, who has seen every political convention since 1944, Wednesday night's nomination of Kennedy seemed the least enthusiastic of the past 16 years.

The answer may be that it is difficult to get emotional about a technician. Why then was Kennedy chosen, aside from the fact that he and his supporters had worked for months lining up delegates?

Perhaps because the convention felt, consciously or not, that the accumulating problems of today call not only for a hard-working, well-informed candidate but one who acts and thinks in modern terms.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The question of the installation of water meters was revived at a meeting of Wellsville Council.

About 125 children, between the ages of 5 and 9, examined during the first three days of a four-day pre-school clinic at Central School on E. 4th St.

More than 400 men, women and children attended the outing of the First Presbyterian Sunday School at Thompson Park.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Ninety-five district workers were placed in permanent jobs during June by the East Liverpool employment security center.

Ted C. Talgenhorst, formerly of East Liverpool, was named instrumental music supervisor in the public schools at Defiance.

TEN YEARS AGO — The 27th annual camp meeting of the Rochester District of the Free Methodist Church opened in Dixonville.

Mrs. Betty Hayes was installed as councilor of All-American Council 287, Daughters of America.

A donation of $25 was made to help decorate the Boyce Methodist Church at a meeting of the L. G. Club.

County

Perle Mesta, known all over the nation as the Washington "hostess with the mostest." I saw House Speaker Sam Rayburn seated at a table with Mrs. Ladybird Johnson, wife of Sen. Lyndon Johnson. And that made me wonder if Judge Louis Tobin still remembers the time "Mr. Sam" stayed overnight at his home after speaking at a Columbian County Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner a few years ago.

I might add here that the social activity is all arranged in the morning and early afternoon, which gives the delegates time to see places of interest without neglecting business. The convention does not convene until about 5 p. m., local time, which is 8 p. m. in East Liverpool.

Wherever I go, the "Ohio" badge I wear proves an introduction to new friendships. It makes me very proud of my state. It surprises me how well I have been received, talking with candidates and convention officials and just plain visitors.

Although I have no credentials, I have been busy digging for news and sidelights. And everyone I have approached has been courteous and kind.

Many of the delegates are angry at the Kennedy campaign managers, charging that they have "gobbled up" all the tickets for gallery seats and are holding them until the psychological moment so that the hall can be packed with visitors rooting for the Massachusetts senator. I don't know if that is true, but I do know that the gallery seats have been strangely empty.

How did Rep. Wayne Hays and Don Gosney, our 18th District delegates, expect to vote on the first ballot? I talked over that question with them as recently as Wednesday afternoon and they said they had not made up their minds finally.

Lyndon Johnson was scheduled to attend a caucus with our delegation later in the afternoon at the invitation of Hays. Perhaps that would lead to some decisions.

At the moment, I feel Hays and Gosney are leaning toward Sen. Johnson.

We attended a reception Wednesday morning, given by Sen. Johnson and his charming wife. The guests included Rep. Hays, Gosney, Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville — the other district alternate — Atty. Guy Mauro of Salem and myself.

It was what you might call an "intimate" reception for Los Angeles, as the crowd totaled only about 50. It was held at the Statler-Hilton Hotel. Sen. Johnson and his wife spoke.

I asked the senator if he would return to visit with us if he gets the nomination and he replied that he would. He said he "can't forget the wonderful food and the pleasant people" at Beaver Local School when he spoke to the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner in May. Every time he talks with me, he comments on the "good food" he was served at that affair.

I had a chat Wednesday with Rep. Hays on foreign affairs, particularly the thorny problem with Castro in Cuba. He recalled that he saw this crisis coming months ago and warned the nation on television that Castro could prove to be "a dangerous man."

Hays said he does not criticize the administration, as he realizes it "is a ticklish problem." But the cut in the Cuban sugar quota was one of the first steps in a Congressional move to "strangle this dictator," he said. But under no circumstances should the U. S. give up its important base in Guantanamo Bay, he feels.

The weather forecasters warned us to look out for smog Wednesday, but none developed. It was a beautiful day, with the temperature about 81 or 82.

The Sports Arena, where the convention is held, has proved to be very comfortable. It is thoroughly air conditioned, so we are not uncomfortable from the temperature. The biggest distraction is that the aisles are always crowded. The delegates don't seem to want to take their seats — apparently they enjoy standing.

Mrs. Bryan

a member of the Tom Jones Bible Class and the United Women's Association.

In October 1950, Mrs. Bryan was honored by the Business & Professional Women's Club as East Liverpool's "outstanding woman of the year" during a reception in her honor at the Travelers Hotel. Earlier, in March 1949, the Junior Chamber of Commerce had presented her a bronze plaque in appreciation of her service to Girl Scouting.

Mrs. Bryan was a business woman the greater part of her life. She had charge of the former Franklin Automobile Agency and helped her father, the late Phillip Morley, in the sand and gravel business.

Born here March 12, 1879, she was the daughter of the late Mr. Morley and Elizabeth Patterson Morley. She was one of the organizers of the Girl Scout Council here in 1944.

Mrs. Bryan also was responsible for organizing the Girl Scout Camp at Echo Dell. The land was donated by William B. Louthan and Edna S. Louthan of Park Blvd.

She leaves several cousins. Her husband died in February 1950. Services will be held Saturday morning at 10:30 at the Dawson Funeral Home by the Rev. William Claghorn, pastor of the Chester Westminster United Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in the Riverview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday.

Kishi

a small, unimportant rightist group. He refused to say why he had attacked the Prime Minister or how he had obtained the Liberal-Democratic party badge that he used to enter the official residence.

The attack on Kishi occurred just a month after another rightist stabbed and injured a prominent Socialist, Jotaro Kawakami, near the Parliament Building. The two attacks aroused fears that Japan is in for a revival of the prewar terrorism in which the notorious rightist Black Dragon Society played a leading role.

Kishi is the fourth Japanese prime minister of the 20th century to be a terrorist victim. The others were Takashi Hara, fatally stabbed in 1921; Yuko Hamaguchi, wounded in 1930; and Tsuyoshi Inukai, assassinated by rebellious army officers in 1932.

Road Markers Struck

LISBON—Two highway markers were hit and bent by an unknown vehicle about 7 a. m. today in Lisbon, according to Patrolman Leon Zahndt. One was in the Village Square and the other in the 500 block of N. Market St. Tire tracks indicate a long truck may have turned the corner to sharply on the square, hitting the sign there, or it may have been something extending over the side, Zahndt said.

Post Office 'Dilemma' Aired By Wellsville Chamber Board

The question of obtaining another Post Office in Wellsville was discussed at a meeting of the Wellsville Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors Wednesday night at the Central Federal Savings & Loan Association building.

At present, the situation apparently is in status quo or open. The postal department advertised for and received bids for a suitable building to remodel. The lone bidder was the owner of the former Standard Hardware Building at 12th and Main Sts.

Objections were raised and finally the authorities agreed to consider a site at 6th and Washington Sts. offered by Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara for construction of a new building. The site of the Whitacre Apartments, which are being razed, at 3rd and Commerce Sts. also was offered for sale.

After postal authorities announced they would leave the matter open and consider other sites, Postmaster Elmer Evans urged that a site at 4th and Main Sts. be considered.

No definite word since has been heard from postal authorities. The board last night voted to send letters to Rep. Wayne L. Hays and Sens. Frank J. Lausche and Stephen Young asking that Wellsville receive a new Post Office facility.

A committee was named to investigate costs and other details necessary for the preparing of a brochure on Wellsville. It will contain historical information, geographical information and data on points of interest.

A committee also was named to investigate the renovation of "Wellcome to Wellsville" signs.

Fred Huston, president, presided. The parking meter situation was discussed but no action was taken because it was not known that referendum petitions had been filed.

A discussion was held on the cleaning of city streets. Various members were asked to check on the possibility of civic action or some type of anti-litter campaign.

100 Italians On Mt. Blanc Awaiting 'Doomsday' Today

COURMAYEUR, Italy (AP)—This is doomsday for 100 people huddled in a building 7,150 feet up Europe's highest mountain, waiting for someone to set off a "mercury bomb" and tilt the world off its axis.

The followers of Dr. Elzio Bianca, a bearded Milan pediatrician, were sure that the bomb, to be set off accidentally today but by whom they don't know, would send the seas boiling in over the lowlands of the earth. That's why they headed for Mt. Blanc at the start of the month.

Instead of a bomb, the blast may come from a big fireworks display. The police said they had been told that "certain gay young spirits" planned to set off the fireworks at the predicted hour of doom to scare the daylight out of the cultists.

Bianca and his followers were dug in at a "survival" pavilion nearly half way up the 15,780-foot peak in the Alps. They sealed the windows of the lower floor with concrete in case the waters got too high. Cracks in the walls were plugged with cotton to keep out radiation.

There was one hitch in their plan—10 boats they ordered to navigate after the deluge had not arrived from a sporting goods house in Genoa.

vote for the ticket headed by Kennedy but would not work for it.

Texas' 24 electoral votes—which went to President Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956—represent a prize Vice President Richard M. Nixon will be shooting for if he is the Republican nominee.

Comments of other Texans of set somewhat the sting of Daniel's statement. House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, who championed Johnson's cause, was unhappy about the result. But he said he is a good Democrat and will abide by the result.

Johnson himself sent Kennedy a wire offering "warm congratulations" and promising help "in every way to carry the whole Democratic ticket to victory from the courthouse to the White House."

But other Southerners let their feelings show.

Gov. Ernest F. Hollings of South Carolina made an official demand that his state not be recorded as joining the acclamation for Kennedy's nomination.

South Carolina Democrats will reconvene their state convention in mid-August. Sources close to the governor said they expect the state's electors to be instructed to vote for some other person than Kennedy in the Electoral College.

Six Southern states have made arrangements under which they could free their electors if they chose.

More trouble could be expected from Mississippi, which wouldn't even give its support to Johnson but cast its 23 convention votes for Gov. Ross R. Barnett.

Women workers in the United States today represent about 33 per cent of the nation's entire labor force. Their average age is slightly over 40.

and excited galleries, far behind with 79½ scattered votes.

To win, Kennedy didn't need any of the 43 Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey kept in his corner, nor any of the 41½ that were cast for Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

The booming tallies of the big states, where the heavy electoral vote will count most in November, put Kennedy across in a convention that had accepted his nomination as an almost foreclosed matter and had little for delegates to shout about.

In the showdown, New York laid 104½ votes on the line for the Massachusetts senator. Pennsylvania chipped in with 68, Ohio 64, Illinois 61½, Michigan 42½, Massachusetts 41, Indiana 34, and California 33½.

Scattered votes—many of them from the West where Johnson believed he was strong—lifted Kennedy to his winning total.

But the South wanted none of the 43-year-old gladiator who had showed his elders among his opponents that by winning all the primaries in which he was entered and in tireless campaigning for more than two years he had forged a crushing machine.

Kennedy didn't get a single convention vote from Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas or Virginia. He harvested only 3½ in Alabama and 6 in North Carolina.

All of this spelled trouble. And it was not long in coming.

Gov. Price Daniel of Texas, angered by Johnson's defeat, put out a chilly statement that he would

Congo

Loridan vigorously denied the Congolese government's charge of aggression by Belgium and said Belgian troops had intervened only because the mutinous Congo army could not maintain order and the lives of the thousands of whites in the new republic were threatened.

The session was marked by a bitter denunciation of the Western powers, and particularly the United States, by Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev and an indignant reply from U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Sobolev demanded that the council condemn Belgium for sending troops into the territory of the two-week-old Congo republic, a former Belgian colony.

He accused Clare H. Timberlake, the U.S. ambassador in the Congo, of intervention in the Congo's affairs and of using Ralph J. Bunche, Negro U.N. under-secretary now in the new country, to broaden plans for Western intervention under the U.N. flag.

Lodge denounced Sobolev's statement as "outrageous and untrue."

Pittsburgh Man, 42, Killed In Car Crash

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—William H. Patterson, 42, of Pittsburgh, was killed today when his truck swerved off U.S. 224, crashed and burned.

Patterson was employed by an Akron firm, and was eastbound. The accident was near Suffield, Portage County.

Delegates To Meet

NEW CUMBERLAND — Hancock County delegates and alternates to the West Virginia Republican convention Saturday, Aug. 6, at Charleston will meet Friday night at 7:45 at the Courthouse to plan for the trip.

Robert Fulton, who had a patent on steam navigation and other boat experiments, also painted miniature portraits.

Wednesday's convention session. They asked consideration by Ohioans in event of a second ballot for the presidential nomination.

Afterward, Disalle reminded delegates of their first ballot pledge to Kennedy although statute does not prevent Ohioans from voting as they please at a national election.

One delegate, in affirming at the caucus that he would vote first for Kennedy, said he wanted to shift if there was a second ballot. He was Paul D. Barthelme of Canton in the 16th District. He did not identify his choice after Kennedy.

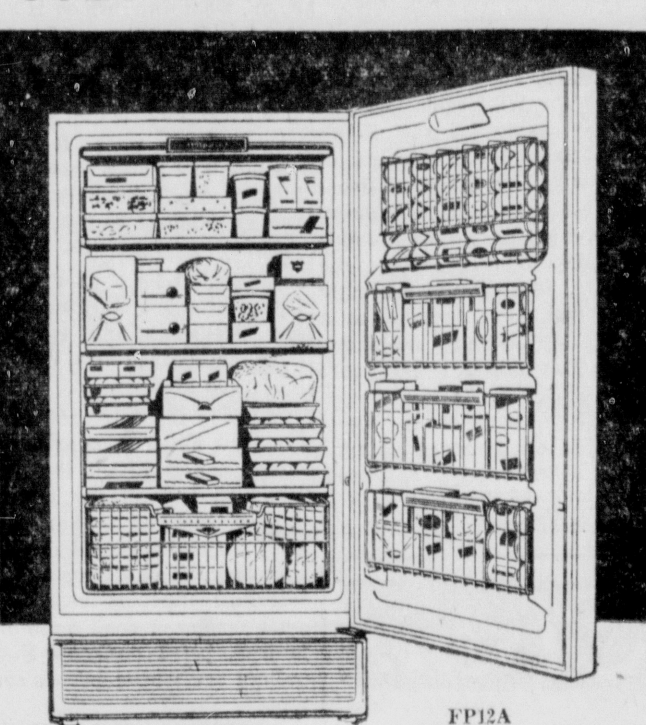

Before the convention's nominating session, Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Flushing, an 18th District delegate, said he would switch to Johnson on a second vote. Coleman said a handful of Ohioans liked Stevenson but asserted most of the delegation probably would swing to Symington if Kennedy should falter.

Midland Girl, Virginia Man Marry In Single Ring Rites

Miss Beatrice Mae Jewell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Jewell, 641 Virginia Ave., Midland, became the bride of Joseph William Rich, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Rich of Alexandria, Va., on Saturday, July 9, at 11:30 o'clock in the Presentation Catholic Church at Midland.

The single-ring ceremony was performed by Fr. John B. Corbett, assistant pastor, before the altar decorated with ferns and vases of white chrysanthemums.

Miss Marlene Swager, the bride's roommate at Carnegie Tech was organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of imported rosepoint lace and silk organza, with a slimly molded bodice featuring a scalloped picture-frame neckline designed with sequins and pearls. The bouffant skirt of silk organza was highlighted with an apron effect of lace appliqued in an intricate pattern on to the organza. Her veil of French illusion was attached to a band of pearls. A single-strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and the cultured pearl earrings were the "something borrowed" from her mother. She observed all the traditions. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid.

The matron of honor was the bride's recently married twin sister, Mrs. B. John Losensky III of State College, Pa. She wore an imported pink silk organza gown with lace bodice and bouffant skirt with a shirred center panel. Her headpiece was a pink Dior bow with a circular face veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink and white roses.

Ralph Hise of Hartford, Conn., fraternity brother of the bridegroom, was best man and B. John Losensky III, brother-in-law of the bride, was the usher.

The bride's mother wore a beige lace sheath dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white roses and the bridegroom's mother was attired in slate gray embroidered organza over pink with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The wedding breakfast was held at the Broadhead Hotel for the wedding party and immediate families and the bride's parents also gave a rehearsal dinner at the Travelers Hotel Friday evening.

The bride is a graduate of Midland High School and Carnegie Tech. Her husband is a graduate of Alexandria High School and Carnegie Tech. He is employed as a graduate assistant at the University of Virginia.

For traveling, the bride wore a black and white summer cotton dress with her detachable orchid corsage. The couple is residing in Charlottesville, Va.

Hancock Expects 'Good' Corn Crop

Sweet corn growers in northern Hancock County will send produce from about 150 acres to the market within the next 30 days and the corn promises to be of excellent quality.

The crop will be somewhat smaller than last year, however, because of the loss of plants during the wet weather of early spring, Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent, reported.

Johnson estimated the 1960 crop will exceed 100,000 dozen, which is far more corn than can be consumed locally.

He listed the leading sweet corn producers in the county as the farms of the Cowl Brothers, Linn Troop, William Duncan and sons of Route 66, and Conkle Farms and A. H. Hillyard and sons of the Chester area.

"Sweet corn, like tomatoes, can be purchased at the stores throughout most of the year, but it's never as good as locally-grown corn in season," the agricultural agent said. "Fresh corn has good green husks and flags," he added.

The first ambition of John L. Sullivan, world heavyweight champion, was to be a plumber or tinsmith.

Park To Continue Mail Fund Appeal

Mailing of quarterly fund solicitation letters for the Chester City Park was authorized by the Park Commission at a meeting Wednesday night at the City Hall.

Discussion was held on whether or not to continue the mail solicitation after Miss Sara Thomas, treasurer, reported $201 collected in the last quarter. It was decided to proceed with the program.

Miss Thomas said the current balance in the park building fund is $1,200, but there are outstanding debts of $4,500, due largely for labor on the community building.

Harold Dickey, chairman, said it is hoped to have the building's interior facilities ready for the start of the high school football season.

Discussion was held on the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers offer of $100 for some land of the park along the Ohio River which will be covered by water when the river level rises following completion of the Stratton "super dam." The matter was referred to council and the city solicitor.

The next meeting will be July 27.

Jacob A. Eller, 37, of Canton, driver of a tanker truck owned by F. J. Egner & Son, Inc., of Galion, told police the big rig skidded on Dresden Ave. and struck the rear fender of a stopped southbound 1959 sedan driven by Ralph V. Shaw, 30, of Lisbon St.

An accident at 6:44 p. m. yesterday damaged a parked 1960 sedan owned by Parsons Sales & Service, 210 Market St., and a 1956 sedan operated by Mrs. Alma H. Boston, 237 W. 7th St.

State By State Swept By Tide

Kennedy Had 'Magic' 761 Locked Up Prior To Vote

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

LOS ANGELES (AP)—State by state, they were swept up by the Kennedy tide. Did they jump in? Were they coaxed? Pushed?

Many leaped to Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Democratic nominee for president. He won them over. He was energetic. He gave the appearance of a brave young man, willing to take on all comers in primary elections.

He spoke readily, if not eloquently, on any subject. He had looks, the appeal of a handsome leading man to girls, of an engaging lad to mothers.

He had experience, six years in the House, eight in the Senate. He was a war hero. He wrote books, received a Pulitzer prize. Most of all, he drew votes. He won seven primaries.

Many were cajoled by a skillfully devised and deployed organization. They had to be persuaded. Kennedy is a Roman Catholic. He is only 43—too young, some of his detractors said. Among their other blemishes, they said he hadn't entered all the primaries. He shifted position over the years on major issues. He was too rich. He was the son of Joseph P. Kennedy, once called an isolationist and an appeaser.

Some delegates had to be shoved by that same relentless Kennedy organization. The candidate himself could not convince them, not until pressed to stay in line or shown that the Kennedy parade was passing them by.

Jack Kennedy arrived in Los Angeles last Saturday the obvious front-runner. He had campaigned. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas had stayed in Washington most of the year, running the Senate. Sen. Stuart Symington had divided his time between seeking votes and voting new laws. Adlai E. Stevenson had waited for others to beat his drums.

With four days to go, Kennedy claimed over 600 of the necessary 761 convention votes. Cold figures, obtained independently, credited him with 546, Johnson with 235. That was on Saturday.

On Sunday, Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago unwrapped his package for Kennedy, 59½ of 69 Illinois votes. Gov. Edmund G. Brown of 81-vote California declared for Kennedy. So did Govs. Herschel C. Loveless of Iowa and George Docking of Kansas. At nightfall Kennedy had 620½, Johnson 273.

On Monday, Gov. David L. Lawrence steered 64 — the number would increase — of Pennsylvania's 81 votes to Kennedy. New York, with 114 altogether, started adding to the 91½ it brought to town for Kennedy. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota turned loose his 63½ votes, not to Kennedy but to a stream into which Kennedy dipped his net. At this point, Kennedy had 688½, Johnson 304½.

On Tuesday the pace slowed. Rivals said it had stopped. California delivered only 30½ to Kennedy, 31½ to Stevenson. Kansas, Iowa, Minnesota and New Jersey, among others, didn't come across as expected. Still the total rose: Kennedy 743, Johnson 335.

On Wednesday, in the morning, Kennedy had slipped to 741½ because a few minds changed in Nebraska's delegation. Humphrey declared for Stevenson.

But by the time the convention opened a few hours later, Kennedy was assured the magic 761 votes he needed, and he got them Wednesday night.

Lisbon Court Rejects Move To Reduce Bond

Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp at Lisbon Wednesday denied a motion to reduce the $10,000 bond under which John C. Ciesielski, 31, of Pittsburgh is being held in connection with an alleged narcotics burglary of Peoples Drug Store June 19.

The $10,000 surety was fixed by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff June 22 when he held Ciesielski for the Grand Jury on a burglary charge. Unable to raise the bond, the Pittsburgher has been held in County Jail. After hearing a motion for a reduced bond, the judge rejected the plea and the defendant was returned to jail.

Ciesielski was captured by East Liverpool police after an auto chase that ended on the River Rd. when the getaway car wrecked. Ciesielski's companion, who escaped, still is being sought.

Named to the social committee were Ronald Taggart, Ralph Hays, Jim Baker and Walter Boyd. Named to the truck committee were Donald Talbott, Taggart and Talbott Jr.

Fourteen attended. Plans were made to cement the floor of the station. The firemen will meet again next Wednesday night at 8:30.

Board Discusses Western Beaver School Project

Minor construction details remaining for completion of the new Ray W. Snyder elementary school in Industry Borough were discussed at a meeting of the Western Beaver County School Authority Wednesday night in the school.

Daniel C. Baker, chairman, presided. The authority hopes the minor work will be completed in time for the school's dedication, set Aug. 18.

A representative of the Carcase Construction Co. of Rochester was present, along with B. J. McCandless of Ellwood City, architect, Frank Meredith, supervising principal and members of the Board of Education.

Baker said the authority is satisfied with the new building. The district also plans to build a high school. Its construction will be under the Pennsylvania State School Building Authority and not the district school authority.

Nationals Hitting Won Out Over AL's Pitching

NEW YORK (AP) — National League 5, American League 3. National League 6, American League 0.

The 1960 All-Star games are over and the NL won 'em both. Is the National really that much better than the AL?

"Hell no!" said Ted Williams as he dressed after Wednesday's shutout defeat in Yankee Stadium. "Those guys just aren't that good. I mean they are not that much better than us that they should take both games," said the Boston Red Sox' Big Guy.

Then he laughed. "Hell, I guess they were saying the same thing 20 years ago, when we were racking them up."

Al Lopez, Chicago White Sox Manager who skipped the AL All-Stars, said he couldn't see a great change between the Nationals of today and the Nationals of yesterday, when he was NL All-Star catcher.

"They had a few sluggers then, too," he said. "But if there is a change, I'd say the American League has gone more for pitching lately and the National has gone more for sluggers. "And our hitting just wasn't as good as their's in these two games."

Nationals Blank Americans For Sweep

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—They'll be talking about the second All-Star game for years to come.

Not so much because the Nationals won it for an unprecedented sweep of the two-year-old two-game midsummer set to narrow the Americans' over-all margin to 16-13.

Not so much because for only the third time since its inception in 1933 has an All-Star game ended in a shutout, such as Wednesday's 6-0 victory, or for the third time have four home runs been hit by one club.

Not so much because for the second time in three days was the victory credited to a Pittsburgh pitcher. Bob Friend won in Kansas City Monday and Vernon Law won in New York Wednesday.

Not so much because in winning, NL Manager Walter Alton accomplished, within 10 months, a grand slam in baseball by winning a pennant, a World Series and two All-Star games, or because in losing, AL Manager Al Lopez suffered his sixth All-Star loss, two as a player, one as a coach, and three as a manager.

The 38,362 paying customers in Yankee Stadium will long remember the second 1960 All-Star game because of the heroics of three really superlative performers, three players who belong on any All-Star team in any generation—Willie Mays, Stan Musial, and Ted Williams.

Willie the Magnificent, back in New York where he last played in 1957, duplicated his spectacular Kansas City performance by smashing a single and home run off New York southpaw Whitey Ford and another single off Detroit right-hander Frank Lary. The San Francisco special also stole a base. In center field, Willie was his magnificent self, making four putouts. One was on a 425-foot smash by Mickey Mantle to deep center which he made look easy.

Law Gets Credit For Victory

The only person not excited about Mays' performance was Willie himself.

"Can't let it go to my head," he said. "When I find myself feeling good about something I done, I remember that next day could be a bad one. And man, I have had some bad ones. Some were so bad I could cry."

At a nearby cubicle in the winning team's clubhouse was another smiling player, the ageless Musial.

Bucs, Braves Duel Tonight At Pittsburgh

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer
Harvey Haddix, the little Pittsburgh left-hander who pitched 12 perfect innings and still couldn't beat Milwaukee a year ago, opens the second half of the 1960 season tonight shooting for his fifth victory in a row against the Braves.

Milwaukee, five games behind the front-running Pirates in the National League, counters with its ace lefty, Warren Spahn, a fellow who used to beat the Pirates as regularly as the Braves once beat Haddix.

The game at Pittsburgh is the only one scheduled for the day after the second All-Star game in New York. The majors' three-day respite started Monday when the National League beat the American 5-3 in the first 1960 All-Star game in Kansas City. Then the Nationals made it a sweep with a 6-0 followup Wednesday.

Tonight's game is a makeup. Friday, Cincinnati comes into Pittsburgh, Milwaukee goes to Philadelphia, Chicago is at St. Louis, and Los Angeles, the hottest team in the NL, is at San Francisco.

In the American League, action resumes Friday with New York, in front by 2½ games, at Detroit, Washington at second-place Cleveland, Baltimore at Chicago, and Boston at Kansas City.

On May 26, 1959, Haddix pitched the unprecedented 12 perfect innings against the Braves, then lost in the 13th on one hit.

'Kinda Liked That'

Home Run Can Make You Feel Younger, Stan Says

NEW YORK (AP) — At 39, Stan Musial acknowledged today that he couldn't keep going forever.

"When you hit a home run in an All-Star game, it makes you feel a lot younger than you are," he said. He added he's not thinking in terms of quitting.

Musial grinned as he thought of the seventh inning of Wednesday's game when he blasted a homer to help the National League defeat the American League 6-0 in the baseball classic.

"When I went past Solly Hemus (third base coach) I said to him: 'I kinda liked that.'"

Musial now has played in 19 All-Star games and holds a fistful of records. He has hit more home runs than anyone (6), hit for more total bases (39) and has the most at-bats (57).

"Nineteen All-Star games," Musial mused. "Imagine that. I don't think some of those kids on the team were 19 years old (they all were over 19)."

"But I've still got my enthusiasm and that counts a lot."

Blind Bogey Won By Miss Beatty

Miss Barbara Beatty fired low gross of 46-46-92 to win Wednesday's 18-hole blind bogey event in women's golf at the East Liverpool Country Club.

Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Robert Patterson and Mrs. George Steele. The putting was won by Mrs. John Mountford with 31.

In the nine-hole event, Mrs. George Mueller shot low gross of 55. Mrs. W. E. Dunlap, Mrs. H. A. Smith and Mrs. D. E. Beatty won prizes.

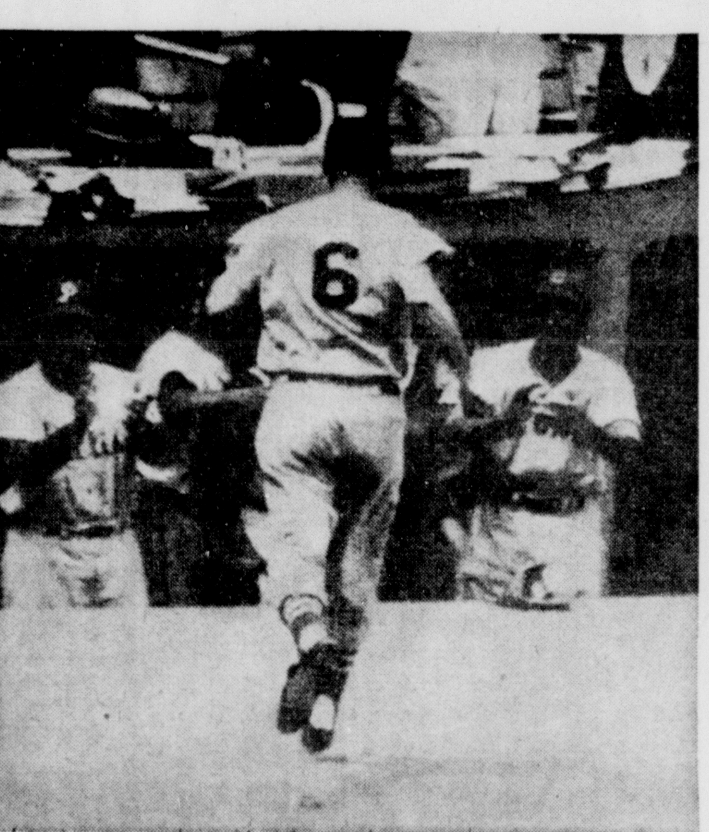

The putting was shared by Mrs. J. D. Thompson and Mrs. D. E. Beatty with 16 each.

Pittsburgh's Dick Stuart hit eight home runs on the road this season before hitting one at home. Then he hit three in succession at Forbes Field.

First Landing Rates Favorite At Monmouth

OCEANPORT, N.J. (AP)—C.T. Chenery's First Landing, champion 2-year-old of 1958, will be the favorite Saturday in the $100,000-added Monmouth Handicap at Monmouth Park.

A field of about nine is expected for the 1¼-mile race, and First Landing would be the starting point weight under 123 pounds as he goes after his first victory since the Laurel Maturity in April.

Eddie Arcaro, winner of three straight Monmouth Handicaps with Nashua, Dedicate and Bold Ruler starting in 1956, will be back to pilot First Landing. Arcaro, who rode the Chenery 4 year old in his 1958 races and again last year, hasn't been aboard First Landing since he finished out of the money in the Santa Anita Handicap last February.

Ada L. Rice's Talent Show, winner of the Massachusetts Handicap in which First Landing was fourth, and Emil Dolce's Manassas Mauler, winner of several handicaps this season, are next in the weights with 117 pounds apiece.

"You know," he was saying, "I really had a feeling I was going to hit a homer. I can't explain why you feel that way. But you do."

Stan, at 39, and playing in his 19th All-Star game, was referring to the home run he hit as a pinch hitter off Gerry Staley of Chicago in the seventh inning.

The 41-year-old Boston Red Sox slugger didn't disappoint the fans, either. He slashed a hard single to right as a pinch hitter in the bottom half of the seventh. It was one of the eight hits given up by six NL pitchers.

Williams, who, like Musial, is playing his last year, now has 14 hits, which include four home runs, 12 runs batted in, and 10 runs scored in 18 All-Star appearances.

The only American Leaguer to have more than one hit was Hank. The rookie shortstop had two singles on top of a hit in the first game.

The other National League homers were hit by Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews and St. Louis' Ken Boyer. Mathews, in the midst of a batting slump which caused Alton to drop him from second to sixth in the batting order, hit his off losing pitcher Ford in the second inning after a single by teammate Joe Adcock.

The best showing of any of the five American League pitchers was made by Early Wynn, 40, Chicago right-hander. He retired six straight batters in the two innings he worked.

The National used 26 players, a record, and the American 21. The only player who didn't see action in either game was southpaw Dick Stigman of the Cleveland Indians.

Liston Shoots For Knockout

DENVER (AP) —Sonny Liston says his sleep potion is prepared for Zora Folley who's scheduled to fight the Philadelphia knockout artist for 12 rounds Monday night in the Denver Coliseum.

"Folley talks about going 12 rounds," Liston scoffed at a training session Wednesday. "I'll see that he don't go 12 rounds — I'll give him the sleep potion."

The slumber drug is a knockout punch embraced in Liston's 14½ inch left fist. The potion, usually applied with a left hook, has sent to dreamland 20 of Liston's opponents in 30 bouts. He's lost only one.

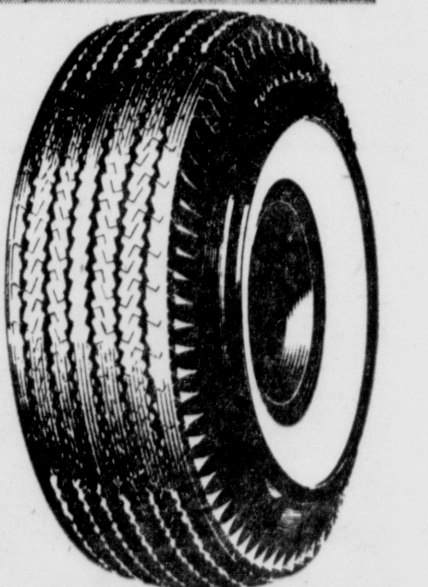

Folley, a slick boxer from Chandler, Ariz., says little about the approaching bout that may give the winner a title shot at heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson. Liston is rated No. 1 and Folley No. 2 in the latest Ring magazine.

Waterford Park's first daily double payoff Wednesday skyrocketed to a new high for the season when two longshots teamed up for a $1,666.20 payoff.

Somewhere in the crowd of 2,815 were 11 lucky fans who purchased tickets on the 11-10 combination. Provoc Who started the ball rolling towards the highest double payoff in several years. The 50-1 shot, ridden by Joe Minotto, nipped Pay The Piper at the wire and returned $114.80, $32.60 and $8.80.

Provoc Who also had to withstand a foul claim when Miss Arcadia, which placed third, alleged bumping through the stretch.

In the second race, Fokie King, a 25-1 shot, won in a photo finish to return $56.20, $15.20 and $8.

The $1,666.20 total isn't the largest double at Waterford Park since the all-time high is $3,939.40 paid on Oct. 13, 1952 on a combination of It Girl in the first race and Infrequency which took the second.

The second double was worth $244.40 on a 9-2 combination of Buckles N Bows and Lost Humility, which returned $48.40, $16 and $6.80.

Longshots were sprinkled throughout Wednesday's nine-race program run in a steady rain.

DETROIT (AP) — Art Wall Jr. and Mike Souchak, riding two of golf's hottest streaks, headline a classy field of 161 that tees off today in the $25,000 Western Open Golf Tournament.

Wall, the man with the magic touch around the greens, was 13 strokes under par last week in winning the Canadian Open. A few days before, he finished in a second-place tie in the Flint Open. Souchak won that one, holing a seven-foot putt from the 18th green in the final round for a one-stroke victory.

Roush, Blackwell Added To Redleg Own Hall Of Fame

CINCINNATI (AP)—The names of Eddie Roush and Ewell Blackwell will be added to the Cincinnati Reds' own Hall of Fame.

Roush, the old time outfielder, and Blackwell, the pitcher with the baffling crossfire delivery, were picked for the Hall of Fame by a vote of fans. The results of the voting were announced Wednesday.

Roush twice led the National League in batting while playing with the Reds from 1916 to 1926. He also was with the team in 1931.

Blackwell bowed out of baseball after his arm went bad in 1951. He had a 22-8 record in 1947, a year in which he posted 16 consecutive victories. He also came within two outs of pitching two consecutive no-hitters that year.

Other former Reds in the Cincinnati Hall of Fame are Ernie Lombardi, Frank McCormick, Bucky Walters, Paul Derringer, Johnny Vander Meer, Eppa Rixey and Ival Goodman.

Midland Fund Asks $37,939 For Fall Drive

The United Funds of Beaver County, with headquarters at Beaver Falls, has announced that the Midland Area Charities has set a goal of $37,939 for the campaign this fall.

The "Give Once — and for All" campaign will support the 1961 services of 23 countywide and two local area health, welfare and character-building agencies.

Charles Schmitt, superintendent at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., will be campaign chairman. Co-chairmen will be Joseph D'Alesio, president of Crucible Local 1212, United Steelworkers Union, and Donald I. Green, Midland Rotary Club president.

Preliminary campaign plans were formulated by the Midland group at a dinner meeting Monday night at Deramo's Restaurant. Atty. Edwin M. Wallover, president, presided.

Nile H. Wain, fund secretary, will co-ordinate the campaign preparations and schedules with the county campaign district staff to be located in the Beaver office to provide direction to the local area campaigns in Beaver, Midland, and Monaca.

In announcing the goal, Atty. Wallover said: "While this sum of money is about 8 per cent greater than that raised during last year's campaign, postponed because of the steel strike, it still is somewhat below Midland's share in support of Beaver County's fall campaign goal of $633,823."

"I am confident our companies, business establishments, employees and individual citizens each will pledge his fair share for an over-subscription and full share of our joint obligation to the charitable needs of the entire county."

The divisional chairmen and dates for the "kickoff" and closing of the campaign will be announced as preparations are developed.

Special Prober Checks Closing Of Gas Valves

WHEELING (AP)—A special investigator appointed by Gov. Underwood met privately with two Ohio County judges here Wednesday to discuss the mysterious closing of gas valves in the Wheeling area.

State Police Capt. D. E. Carson conferred with Judges J. H. Brennan and J. J. P. O'Brien and with attorneys for Manufacturers Light and Heat Co. and Local 420 Utility Workers of America.

Carson issued a statement to the effect that further work in the investigation could not be undertaken at this time.

Local 420 has been on strike against the company since May 5. More than 110 members of the union have been out.

The investigation was requested by the two Ohio County judges July 8 after a number of gas valves were turned off near Wheeling.

Each time the valves were turned off, hundreds of customers were without service until non-union company workers could turn them back on. The valves were sometimes shut for an entire day.

So far the company and the union have blamed each other for the tampering.

Bids Total $2 Million For Kent U. Building

Woman Had 30 Dogs, But Now She Has Two

BALTIMORE (AP)—Miss Florence Smythe is going to be lonely. She'll have only two dogs for company. She had 30 until today.

Neighbors of the 59-year-old woman complained to police about so many dogs in her small house. She was charged with disturbing the peace.

Magistrate Howard Aaron offered to dismiss the charge if she would part with 28 of the dogs. Miss Smythe cried and pleaded: "Dogs are not like men. They do not curse. My dogs are good."

But the magistrate was adamant. And Miss Smythe parted with all except two of her pets.

15 Communities OK 3-Point Aim In Pay Tax Bid

CINCINNATI (AP) — Representatives of 15 communities in Hamilton, Clermont and Warren counties have agreed on a three-point campaign in their efforts to get a share of Cincinnati's one per cent payroll tax.

The communities believe they should get a part of the tax money Cincinnati collects from persons who work in Cincinnati but live in outlying towns.

The representatives of the towns agreed at a meeting in Milford Wednesday night to form a permanent organization to be known as the "Share the Tax Committee."

Efforts to get a part of the income tax have been made for several years by Robert E. Hyde, mayor of Owensville.

The program adopted Wednesday night calls for: Discussion with Cincinnati officials to arrive at an agreement to split the taxes involved.

Efforts to bring about legislation by the state of Ohio prescribing such a split.

These failing, court action to test the constitutionality of the Cincinnati payroll tax ordinance.

The committee will meet again

Aug. 17 in Mariemont.

At the meeting were officials from Woodlawn, Montgomery, Lincoln Heights, Madeira, Newtown, Mariemont, Arlington Heights, Evendale, Greenhills, Amelia, Owensville, Mason, Pleasant Plain, Loveland and Milford.

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—A Trumbull County Common Pleas Court jury has convicted James Zimmerman of Cleveland of burglary and larceny in a $20,000 burglary and safecracking at a state liquor store here in June 1958. ## Plane Makes District Survey Of Background Radioactivity

The tri-state district is being surveyed by airplane in a systematic check on the natural background radioactivity — issued by soil, rocks and cosmic rays — the U. S. Geological Survey has announced.

The study is a new phase of a co-operative program started two years ago to survey various parts of the country where atomic installations are located.

The Duquesne Light Co.'s atomic power generating plant at Shippingport and the Bettis Atomic Power Laboratory at Pittsburgh are two such installations in this area.

Authorities of the federal agency said the idea of the survey is to determine the levels of natural radiation "to provide a base from which to determine any future variations which might result from nuclear (weapons) testing programs, reactors or other Atomic Energy Commission operations."

In such a survey, a DC-2 plane equipped with sensitive radioactivity counters flies at an altitude of 500 feet in lines about a mile apart and embracing an area with a 50-mile radius around an atomic plant.

The survey here began in mid-June, starting around Youngstown and working east on a north-south line. Survey scientists said the study will be completed around Aug. 15, with a preliminary report to be issued shortly afterward and a detailed report scheduled about a year later.

Since the overall program began, surveys have been made around Hanford, Wash.; San Francisco; Los Angeles; Idaho Falls, Chicago; Long Island to Schenectady, N. Y., and the Baltimore-Washington area.

The twin-engine plane used in the survey tows a red, bomb-shaped object which houses a magnetometer to measure the intensity of the earth's magnetic field.

Inside the plane is a super-sensitive scintillation counter capable of measuring variations in gamma rays coming from the ground. Easily identified, the plane has SURVEY painted on its side in large red letters.

Child Feels Rejected Over New Baby

Suppose you were the older child reported in the following letter by an Indiana mother: "We have two daughters, one seven and one two. The older daughter feels left out by everyone since we've had our second daughter. In many cases, I can see why that should be, as everyone takes to a younger child."

By Garry Meyer.

older daughter is also unhappy because she is rather hard to fit in clothes. She is broad-shouldered, like her Dad, and rather chubby. "She also had to start wearing glasses, but they look nice on her. She cries at the drop of the hat, and says nobody likes her."

"SHE HAS MADE straight 'A's' in school so far. Everybody, Sunday school teacher, teacher and many more people, have talked about how smart she is."

"She was greatly made over by her father's parents and single sister until her younger sister came along. The younger girl looks like her grandmother."

"Now these grandparents and single aunt, especially the grandmother, almost ignore her, even when she is talking directly to them."

"She talks an awful lot and always did since she was very small. Since she is jealous and feels rejected, she has quite an unlovable attitude."

"I sympathize with her but try to explain that everyone makes over a young child more, but this does little good!"

My reply in part:
MY HEART GOES out to that older daughter. I am sure she feels very unhappy. I don't believe your explanations to her will suffice.

I wish you could prevail on the grandparents to be more humane and to go out of their way to take an interest in her and quit doting on the baby. Also work on

3 Generations-With Money, Sweat, Stamina

Kennedys Went To Bat For Jack

By FRANCES LEWINE
LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Kennedy clan—three generations of it—went to bat with money, sweat and stamina to get Sen. John F. Kennedy the Democratic presidential nomination.

AD facts

Buying interest in the compact American cars is now running at a high rate. Estimates for 1960 compact car sales are over 2 million units. Newspapers play a dominant role in informing consumers about them. In a recent survey, more people mentioned newspaper ads and/or newspaper stories than mentioned any other single information source.

Their team spirit got its start on the playing fields of Harvard. They found it could score for them in politics too.

Alongside Jack were Kennedys ranging from his multimillionaire father, Joseph P. Kennedy, ex-ambassador to Britain, to the family's 16 grandchildren.

Youthful Kennedy brothers visited coal mines, leaped from ski jumps and worked around the clock in primaries from New Hampshire to West Virginia.

His wife, mother and sisters presided at political teas and receptions, shook thousands of hands.

In-laws pitched in as well. Among these is movie actor Peter Lawford.

The subtle rules of the game left the ranking Kennedy clansman on the sidelines, though.

Joe Kennedy, 71, whose major ambition is to see his son president, kept out of the campaign front line and made no public speeches.

Jack and his aides reportedly thought it best for the controversial old man to stay on the sidelines, though they say he exerted "terrific" influence over Jack.

Joe Kennedy has his own political scars. He served as U.S. ambassador to Britain in the days of Munich and Adolf Hitler.

The elder Kennedy is still tagged with an isolationist label from those early World War II days when he tried to keep America out of the war "unless we are attacked."

Though he later lashed out at Nazi brutality and persecution, Kennedy said in 1938 that dictators and democratic countries, instead of hammering away at each other, should try to establish good relations. "We have to live together in the same world, whether we like it or not," he said.

Kennedy finally resigned as ambassador at the end of 1940. Eight years ago, when son Jack launched his Senate career, father Joe tried to sever the cords of political inheritance.

Joe Kennedy declared he was "in complete disagreement with his son" on foreign policy. "I couldn't possibly have a worse argument with anyone about foreign policy than I have had with my son," he added.

He didn't make public speeches or campaign for his son. But even then he wore a deep blue tie with the silver inscription "Kennedy for President," a gift from friends.

The driving ambition of presidential candidate Kennedy doubtless comes from his Irish-Catholic father. Brought up in a moderately well-to-do Boston family, Joe Kennedy set out to be a millionaire by the time he was 35 and succeeded far ahead of schedule.

To day, Joe Kennedy's wealth, derived from banking, liquor, the motion picture industry, shipping and Wall Street interests, has been estimated in the tens of millions.

To each of his nine children—seven are still living—he said he gave a trust fund of "at least a million" each.

The Kennedy family, including all those married into it, are a tight-knit group. They are devout Catholics. Cardinals have officiated at their weddings.

When the clan gathers at the family summer home at Hyannis Port, Mass., on Cape Cod, athletics is usually the main interest. Touch football has long been a favorite with them.

Joe Kennedy's four sons followed in his footsteps and were graduated from Harvard, where they starred at baseball, football or swimming.

His five daughters were educated in Catholic schools, convents and colleges.

All but the eldest daughter, Rosemary, who teaches in a convent school, are married and have children.

The Kennedy clan has politics in its blood. Jack's grandfather, Patrick J. Kennedy, started out running a saloon and became an East Boston political boss. His mother, Rose, was the daughter of famed Boston Mayor John F. (Honey Fitz) Fitzgerald.

Perhaps as imbued with politics as Jack are his two brothers, Edward and Robert, both lawyers and stalwart campaigners.

The youngest, Edward, 28, nicknamed Teddy, took over in 1958 as Jack's campaign manager and has been in the thick of things since.

When Jack ran for the Senate in 1962, brother Robert F. had the campaign job. Since then, Bobby, 33, rose to a prominent role as chief counsel of the Senate investigations subcommittee.

Last September, Bobby quit his Senate investigating job to write a book about labor rackets, entitled "The Enemy Within." It was published in the midst of the 1960 primaries, adding to the Kennedy publicity.

Jack is the author of "Why England Slept," and the Pulitzer Prize winning "Profiles in Courage."

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: You frequently say in your column that a married woman need not put up with a man who she no longer cares for. You phrase it this way: "Your husband has to support his children or go to jail."

By such advice you give the impression that when a wife gets bored, she can throw her husband out and collect support money. In other words, you encourage divorce as "the easy out."

In case you don't know it, Ann Landers, there are already too many man-hungry divorcees on the loose. You don't help the situation by painting glowing pictures of the split home. You do more harm than good and I wish you'd button your lip on this subject.—A FOUR-YEAR OBSERVER.

Dear Observer: Anyone who has read this column for four years should know where I stand on divorce. If you can show me a single column that I wrote which advocates divorce I will buy you a new car. (Your choice.)

It is the law that a man must support his children. Most states have closed a favorite loophole for irresponsible husbands who simply left the state to avoid paying support.

I do not believe that a woman should live with a man who abuses her and the children or beats her regularly, like a gong. In such cases, I recommend separate roofs and child support. This is not the same as divorce. In my book, marriage is forever.

How To Lose Friends

Dear Ann: I grew up with a girl I will call Wendy. To this day we are the dearest of friends. Our mothers were very close for many years.

Recently Wendy's mother said to me, "I never see your mother any more. I call on her but she doesn't call on me. I feel bad about losing her friendship and I wish you'd tell her."

I phoned Mom that night and told her what Wendy's mother said.

This was her reply: "I can't tolerate that woman since she has become a grandmother. She talks of nothing but her grandchildren."

"She doesn't give a person a chance to sit down before she hauls out dozens of pictures. Then she starts with the anecdotes. I can't stand it."

Shall I tell Wendy to pass along the word?—CHARLOTTE.

Dear Charlotte: Stay out of it. Let your mother pick her own friends. Your information would not be well received by either Wendy or her mother.

Childish Behavior

Dear Ann: I'm a girl who just turned 13. A few months ago I was in seventh heaven and now I am in heartbreak hotel.

I'm crazy about a boy who used to like me. I know it's my fault that he doesn't care for me anymore. Several months back he threw snow on me after a big dance. I slapped him across the face in front of a lot of kids. I know it was the wrong thing to do because he was just being playful. I have tried to apologize but he still won't be friendly. I've tried everything I know of to get him back but nothing works. Please help me, Ann.—BLUE LADY.

Dear Lady: Age 13 and already a permanent resident of "Heartbreak Hotel?" Well!! Kids of 12 SHOULD be throwing snowballs at each other and not going to dances. You behaved childishly because this is the way children behave. Slow down. P.S.: Where's your mother, anyway?

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ohio Group To Open Nixon Drive Monday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The executive committee of the Ohio Volunteers for Nixon will launch the organization's presidential campaign for Vice President Richard M. Nixon at a meeting July 18.

Peter H. Flanagan of New York, national director of the Volunteers for Nixon, will be principal speaker at the all-afternoon session. Most of the meeting will be devoted to a workshop at which suggestions for policies and methods of procedure will be discussed.

Major Crimes Up 20%
CLEVELAND (AP) — Major crimes in Cleveland rose by 20 per cent in the first six months of 1960 compared with the same period a year ago. Police Chief Frank W. Story said Wednesday night he was disturbed, but added that the 1,922-man department had done a good job in combatting crime.

Florida Man, 45, Held In Murder Of Ex-Ohio Woman

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A 45-year-old building contractor today was held in a hospital under a murder charge in a pistol rampage that blinded him and killed his ex-bookkeeper.

Mrs. Jean Abdella, 38, formerly of Nelsonville, Ohio, was struck in the body by seven bullets July 11 as she tried to flee Henry Pelski, witnesses told police. At the time the Fort Lauderdale contractor was free in $10,000 bail on charges of breaking and entering and attempted murder at Mrs. Abdella's former apartment last May.

The shooting followed a conference between Pelski and Mrs. Abdella outside the house. Mrs. Abdella, who resigned several months ago from Pelski's employment, told police in May that Pelski became enraged when she refused to accompany him to a beach. State attorney's investigator George Greer said Pelski might or might not regain the sight of one eye. He blinded himself in attempting suicide after Mrs. Abdella's shooting.

Kennedy Tide Rolled On

No Roadblock, No Miracle

By SAUL PETT
LOS ANGELES (AP)—It rolled on and on, one state after another.

It moved forward relentlessly with a kind of inevitability while Johnson supporters hoped for just enough of a roadblock to slow its momentum and Stevenson admirers prayed for a miracle.

But neither roadblock nor miracle came to pass.

And at 10:50 Wednesday night, Sen. John Fitzgerald Kennedy of Massachusetts became the Democratic nominee for president of the United States.

Mrs. Shah is wearing a colorful flowing Indian dress. They were accompanied on the tour by Ramesh Chand of Hyderabad, India, a student at Alfred University in New York. They will proceed to Cleveland and then to the West Coast.

Kissing Just A Game, With Chance Element
BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Kissing is an increasingly important factor in many games, says an assistant professor of psychology at Bowling Green State University, but a strong element of chance also is present.

Thus, concludes Dr. Brian Sutton-Smith, no one is inclined to take the kissing too seriously.

"We need to remember," says the professor, who is studying personality development, "that this is the age of tongue-tied early dating. Kissing games provide a means for a socially acceptable relationship with the opposite sex."

Lake Itasca, in northwestern Minnesota, is the source of the Mississippi River.

City Man Hurt In Car Mishap

A Fisher Park man was injured when a car driven by his wife struck the rear of a tractor-trailer truck she was attempting to pass on Route 7 about four miles south of Rogers Wednesday afternoon.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the car, driven south by Mrs. Hazel Laughlin, 52, of N. Shady Lane Dr., hit the left rear of the rig operated by Everett Johnson, 59, of 461 Mulberry St., also headed south. The woman then lost control and the 1955 sedan swerved into an embankment, officers reported.

Dale H. Laughlin, 60, her husband, was treated at City Hospital for a laceration of the left hand and a shoulder injury. She was shaken, but unhurt.

The car received considerable damage and Mrs. Laughlin was cited for improper passing, the patrol reported.

A Hanoverton area youth was injured when his car skidded on rain-slicked pavement on a road near Leetonia and struck a utility pole, the patrol said.

Dale McKarns, 19, of Hanoverton R. D. 1 lost control of his car on County Rd. 416 about a mile south of Leetonia at 8:20 p.m. and it struck a pole and a gas main breather pipe along the road. He was taken to Salem City Hospital with a back injury.

The patrol said John Miksek, 73, of New Springfield R. D. 1 left his damaged auto in a Route 14 junk yard after he lost control and veered through the fence of the yard yesterday about a mile east of Columbiana. Miksek, unhurt, was charged with driving left of center.

Kennedy Would Be Youngest If Elected President

WASHINGTON (AP)—If Sen. John F. Kennedy wins the presidential election this fall he will become, at 43, the youngest man ever elected to the presidency and the second youngest ever to hold the office.

If Vice President Richard M. Nixon, 47, wins the Republican nomination as expected and then defeats Kennedy in November, he will be the third youngest president in U. S. history.

The youngest president ever was Theodore Roosevelt, just 10 months past his 42nd birthday when he succeeded to the White House on the death of William McKinley. McKinley was assassinated after less than a year in office. Roosevelt had been vice president.

The youngest president-vice president team ever to win a national election was U. S. Grant, 46, and Schuyler Colfax, 45.

The average age of U. S. presidents on the day of their inauguration has been 56.

California Coed Slain By Student Who Wounds Self

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—The quiet of the University of California's main library was shattered Wednesday by two shots. One killed a 21-year-old coed, one blinded the girl's slayer in a suicide attempt.

Sonja Lillian Hoff looked up from her book to see a fellow senior from Long Beach, Calif., who had changed his name from Bertran Joseph Howk to Mohammed Abdullah. Witnesses told police Abdullah, 21, strode directly up to the blonde Berkeley girl, pulled a .38-caliber revolver from his pocket, and fired point-blank at her forehead, killing her.

Abdullah fired a second shot into his own head. He was taken to a hospital in a critical condition, blinded in one eye. Hospital attendants said he was expected to live.

Friends of the dead girl said there had apparently been a one-sided love affair and that Miss Hoff had told Abdullah to leave her alone.

County Unit Discusses Child Counseling Center

LISBON — The possibility of starting a Columbiana County child guidance clinic similar to the one operated by the East Liverpool Child Counseling Center was discussed at a meeting of the county Mental Health Association Board of Directors Wednesday noon at the Wick Hotel.

The association made a cash donation to the East Liverpool center. The working program for the year was outlined and a long range planning program was discussed. Twelve were present. The directors also discussed possible affiliation with either the Ohio Mental Health League or the Mental Health Federation Corp. of the state.

A donation also was made to the County Home for the Aged. The directors announced speakers are available for any club or group. Mayor William J. Shoub, president, conducted business. The next meeting will be noon Wednesday, Aug. 10, at the hotel.

Surplus Food Given

LISBON — A total of 56 families received surplus food in a distribution Wednesday at the Salem City Hall, Robert Bycroft, county welfare director and food director, reported. The recipients represented 176 of the 294 persons certified as eligible for the distribution.

Sailor Draws Leniency For City Entering

A young Beaver sailor, apparently celebrating his final day of leave, was fined and given a suspended jail term today in Municipal Court after pleading guilty to trespassing in the Little Building early this morning.

David Steele told Judge Samuel M. Chertoff he had no reason to enter the building and no intent to break into any offices.

After warning Steele the maximum penalty under state law is a $50 fine and 30 days in jail, Judge Chertoff imposed a fine of $25 and costs and a 15-day jail term.

The judge suspended the jail term, he said, because he had no desire to get Steele into trouble with Navy officials. Steele told the judge he is on leave and must report Friday to the Lakehurst (N. J.) Naval Air Station.

The judge also told Steele to make arrangements to pay for damage to the inner front door. Steele entered the building by pulling on the inner front door and breaking the night lock and glass, police said. Damage to the door was placed at almost $85, officers were told.

Steele was arrested on Market St. by Patrolmen Paul Carter and Howard Bosworth about 15 minutes after running from the building when spotted by Harold Barth, who resides in the building.

Barth furnished a description to the officers, who took Steele into custody. Three friends, who accompanied Steele on his trip here, were not involved, police said.

Open Hearing Staged On Industry Zone Law

Industry Borough Council held a public hearing Wednesday night in the fire hall concerning a proposed zoning ordinance change eliminating side yards in commercial areas.

Since there were no protests, Council will act on the legislation at its next meeting Wednesday. Calvin Dunlap, president, presided.

Lions Launch Drive By Mail To Aid Debbie

Persons wishing to contribute toward saving the sight of 9-year-old Debbie McElroy may mail money to the First National Bank for the "Dollars for Debbie" account, the Lions Club said today.

James Johnston of the Lions Club, drive chairman, made the announcement after several contributions were received Wednesday at his home.

The Barbershoppers chorus and two quartets have offered their services. They will sing in the Diamond next Thursday night to raise contributions.

Debbie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McElroy, 424 College St., was stricken nearly two years ago with a disease of the central nervous system which affects her sight. She recently returned from Switzerland after treatment and will return to Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore for a checkup in three months.

The Lions Club's Sight-Saving Committee reported the need last week for additional funds to finance the expensive treatment and help defray expenses that have piled up.

Half of all resin and turpentine produced in the United States comes from pine trees of Georgia.

Joint Installation Set For Legion, Auxiliary

South Side American Legion Post 952 of near Hookstown and its auxiliary will hold a joint installation of new officers Friday, Aug. 5.

Plans were made at a meeting of the post Wednesday night. Virgil Sepler, first vice commander-elect was authorized to purchase a new television set for the post's recreation room. He reported on new screens for windows.

William Laughlin reported that he was renamed deputy commander after the recent election of George Youns of New Brighton, the new Beaver County commander. Richard Trimble, commander, presided.

Next meeting will be July 27. Jack Moore is adjutant.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

First The Rain—Then The Deluge

Marie Torre

Albeit a gain for bureaucracy, the networks did well to establish "policing units" to ensure that television would function in accordance with the rules. You need a well-staffed department to keep track of the rules that have been raining on TV since the industry unanimously voted to bar deceit. And it's only the beginning! The deluge, that is, has yet to come!

In Washington, where television has been a matter of great concern since last year, progress is being made toward passage of a House bill authorizing stiff penalties for such broadcast practices as free plugs, quiz show rigging, and payola.

The proposals, scheduled to go to the Senate Aug. 10, are set forth on 47 pages of fine print ("Look, ma, eye-strain!")

Since some of the lines between what the committee regards as permissible as what it takes exception to are rather delicate, and in the interests of improving understanding of the measure, we present herewith some of the examples the committee had before it while drafting the proposals:

1. A refrigerator is furnished by X with the understanding that it will be used in a kitchen scene on a dramatic show and that the brand name will be mentioned.

DURING THE COURSE OF the program the actress says: "Donald, go get the meat from my new X refrigerator."

An announcement is required because the identification by brand name is not reasonably related to the particular use of such refrigerator in this dramatic program.

2. An auto manufacturer furnishes his identifiable current model car for use in a mystery program, and it is used by a detective to chase a villain. No announcement required.

If it is understood, however, that the producer may keep the car for his personal use, an announcement would be required.

Similarly, an announcement would be required if the car is loaned in exchange for a mention on the program beyond that reasonably related to its use, such as the villain saying: "If you hadn't had that speedy (name of auto) you never would have caught me."

3. Perfume manufacturer gives five dozen bottles to producer of giveaway show, some to be identified as prizes. Announcement is required, since bottles retained by producer constitute payment.

4. A private zoo furnishes animals for use on a children's program. No announcement required.

5. A well-known performer appears as a guest artist on a program at union scale because the performer normally commands a much higher fee. No announcement required.

6. Props (piano, plane, car, refrigerator). No announcement required, except when camera deliberately focuses on brand name.

7. A station produces a public service documentary showing development of irrigation projects.

Brand X tractors, furnished for use on the program, are shown in a manner not resulting in identification of the brand. No announcement required.

But if an actor on the program states: "This is the best tractor on the market," an announcement is required.

And so on! After we gleaned the recommendations, two thoughts occurred to us. The network "policing units" would do well to engage lawyers to determine when a plug is okay and when it is verboten; also, they could use better dialogue writers in Washington.

IT'LL BE "Celebrity Talent Scouts" instead of plain "Talent Scouts" when Arthur Godfrey's former TV show returns with Sam Levenson at the helm Aug. 1. The title has been amended in recognition of the status of the scouts-to-be, celebrities all!

Profit Of $1,440 Reported In Event In Ohio Township

Ohio Township volunteer firemen netted $1,440 on their annual carnival held in June on the Fairview Grange grounds, it was announced at the monthly meeting Tuesday night in the fire hall.

George Daniels Jr., president, conducted business. A payment of $1,000 was made on the department's fire truck from carnival proceeds.

Plans for next year's event were discussed. It was decided to hold the affair during the week of June 12 for a six-day period instead of the usual five. The firemen purchased a new hot water tank for the kitchen on the Fairview Grange grounds.

A donation of $75 was made to the Ohio Township Hot Stove League for its help in parking cars during the carnival. Refreshments were served by Ben Tiberio and Joseph Cataldo.

The next meeting will be Aug. 8. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brewer and daughter, Robbin, of Ohio View and Miss Patricia Jamrozik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Jamrozik of Industry, have returned from a week-long vacation at Conneaut Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Crook and daughter, Cindy, of Columbiana, former Industry residents, visited Mr. and Mrs. Ben Montgomery and other friends in the area Tuesday night.

Girl, 5, Suffocates

CINCINNATI (AP) — A plastic dry cleaning bag being used as a mattress cover brought death Wednesday to 5-month-old Marcella Legendre. The baby suffocated when she pulled the plastic bag loose in some manner, and it stuck over her face.

Metropolitan Opera star Dorothy Kirsten is married to medical scientist and neurosurgeon Dr. John Douglas French, of the University of California, Los Angeles.

Aliquippa Rite Unites Couple

Miss Virginia Mary Palermo, daughter of Mrs. Josephine Palermo, 107 Baker St., Aliquippa, and the late Joseph R. Palermo, became the bride of Anthony Lee Fortunato, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fortunato of Wilhelm Dr., Center Township, on Saturday, July 2, at 9 o'clock.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Fr. Norbert Ruprecht, OSP, in the St. Joseph Catholic Church at West Aliquippa, before an altar banked with ferns, palms and vases of white summer flowers. The bride placed a Colonial bouquet of white carnations and lilies of the valley before the altar of the Blessed Mother.

Mrs. Verna Zahorsky, organist, played the nuptial music and sang the responses during the Mass. The bride's brother, Philip Palermo, assisted at the Mass as altar boy.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her uncle and godfather, Alfred L. Steff, 450 Virginia Ave., Midland, the bride wore a gown of white Chantilly lace fashioned with a portrait neckline, outlined with seed pearls and crystals, fitted bodice and long tapered sleeves with scalloped trim at the wrist. The full bouffant skirt, extending into a full chapel train, was scalloped-edged. Her four-tiered bouffant fingertip veil of imported illusion was attached to a queen's crown of crystals and pearls.

Miss Marie Martini of Aliquippa, the maid of honor, wore a ballerina-length gown of mint green chiffon styled with bateau neckline, cap sleeves, fitted bodice and a full pleated skirt with a self-bow trim at the waistline.

Bridesmaids were Miss Violet Smalovich, Miss Rose Marie Santilli and Miss Anne Leasha of Aliquippa and Miss Patricia Frank of New Brighton, cousin of the bridegroom.

Anthony Frank of New Brighton, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man and the ushers were Robert Fortunato of Center Township, brother of the bridegroom; Alfred L. Steff, Jr., 450 Virginia Ave., Midland, and Louis Marchionda of Aliquippa, cousins of the bride, and Sebastian Petrella, Aliquippa.

A wedding breakfast was served in the Sons of Italy Hall following the ceremony. A dinner for 130 guests was served in the Elks Club at Aliquippa in the afternoon and the reception in the evening for 500 guests was held in the Sons of Italy Hall.

The couple will reside at 107 Baker Street, Aliquippa, following a two-week wedding trip to Florida.

Youth Seeks Probation In Gas Station Burglary

One of three East Liverpool youths indicted for the April burglary of a Salem area service station changed his plea to guilty in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon Wednesday and requested probation from Judge Joel H. Sharp.

The guilty plea was entered by Raymond Payton, 21, who was indicted by the recalled April Grand Jury, along with Donald Bailey Jr., 19, and Daniel Germanovich, 18, also of East Liverpool. They are accused of a burglary April 13 at the William Staton service station and store south of Salem.

All three pleaded not guilty at arraignment July 7. Judge Sharp ordered a probation investigation for Payton.

Freed On $10,000 Bond

Mathews Faces Lie Test Today In $350,000 Theft

CHARLESTON (AP) — Whether anybody was with Earl Mathews the night of the Department of Motor Vehicles theft and whether all the money found in his car resulted from it were to be determined today if possible.

For the first time since his arrest last Friday the man, an unemployed bus driver from Marmet, was scheduled to take a lie detector test that seemed sure to come off. The matter of his bond, which caused three other tests to fall through, has been settled.

Yesterday he was given his freedom on $10,000 bond. Pros. Atty. Charles M. Walker agreed to a reduction from $25,000 after he was assured by Motor Vehicles Commissioner E. L. Roush that almost all the cash taken definitely had been recovered.

Mathews' lawyer considered the higher amount unconstitutional and got a hearing before the State Supreme Court scheduled for today for the question to be considered. The hearing was called off after the reduction was granted and Mathews became a free man until when and if he is sentenced. There was no obligation for him to take a lie detector test. He could have simply refused, and that would have been that. One of the conditions made before he granted his permission was understood to be that only the matter of an accomplice and the origin of the money in the trunk would be gone into.

Roush said earlier in the investigation that he was "pretty sure" no other man was involved as an accomplice. His implication was that if there was one it was a woman.

Mathews himself has insisted all along he pulled the job alone. Another point on which he has remained unwavering is that all the cash in the trunk came from the department vault and that he touched none of it.

There was more than $350,000 in bills. The car itself yesterday became the subject of an action in Common Pleas Court. Surface Chevrolet Inc. of Cabin Creek instituted suit to recover the car, bought, it maintained, with some of the $16,421 Mathews stole from its office.

Named with Mathews in the suit was Velva M. Page, mother of Susan Matheny, in whose South Charleston apartment Mathews was arrested.

Mathews' Wife One Of 6 Seeking Reward

CHARLESTON (AP) — Mrs. Earl Mathews, wife of the man who made off with more than $350,000 from the Department of Motor Vehicles vault, is one of six persons seeking the big reward in the case.

A spokesman for the Maryland Casualty Co., which offered the $35,000, said Mrs. Mathews filed through a Charleston law firm on the ground that information she gave police led to the capture of her husband.

At Democratic Convention

Quintet Of TV Newsmen Accorded 'Men Of Week'

By BOB THOMAS

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The man of the moment is Sen. John F. Kennedy. The men of the week are a quintet of TV newsmen who have entered American homes more often than the milkman.

By now you should be familiar with the warm tones and fluent diction of the famous five. If you had a pocket of credentials and if your arches could stand it, you could see them doing their cool work at the Democratic National Convention. Come along.

We climb the west side of the Sports Arena to ear-popping height until we reach the ABC booth hugging the ceiling. There we find John Daly, just as calm as an unruffled as if he were joshing panelists on "What's My Line."

"This convention hasn't been so bad," he says with a genial grin. "Only five or six hours at a clip. I can remember one convention when I sat in this chair for 16 hours."

The heart of the ABC operation is to his right. Engineers and executives are lined up before screens that show the operations of the network cameras. Daly keeps in touch with them and also listens to a headset that gives him different messages in each ear. "A torture instrument," he calls it.

Come along for another rugged hike down the stairs and up on the east side of the arena, facing the rostrum. In this quiet height is an insulated booth where work Chet Huntley and David Brinkley. Only it doesn't look like work.

The NBC twins sit calmly at a table that places them 18 inches apart. Their curly heads untouged, they glance at the TV screen and then out the window to the convention floor. Occasionally one flips a switch before him and utters a sentence or two of comment.

Canton Grid Museum Is Issued Charter

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A non-profit corporation charter has been issued by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown to the National Football Museum, Inc., of Canton.

Purpose of the corporation is to establish, equip, maintain and operate "a depository to collect, classify, preserve and protect records, relics, articles and other things of historic interest connected with or pertaining to the origin, development, and growth of football, and to stimulate an interest in football as a national pastime, particularly in institutions of learning."

Periodic Driver Tests Seen Must To Boost Safety

CLEVELAND (AP)—J. Grant Keys, state highway safety director, says periodic tests for Ohio drivers are a must if traffic safety is to be improved.

Addressing 200 persons at the Cleveland Automobile Club Wednesday, Keys urged his hearers to help change the temper of the times to permit legislation to require driver tests at each license renewal.

"Out of 5,100,000 drivers licensed in Ohio, the state knows nothing about the abilities of two and a half million," he said.

He explained to younger members of his audience that when the state's driver's license law went into effect in 1937 it included a "grandfather" clause. This provided for issuance of licenses without tests to those who said they had been driving previously.

Keys said that within two to four years after passage of a mandatory driver's test "we would know who can see and who cannot."

Ohio driver's licenses are renewable each three years.
